10 | LOCATION OVERVIEW - Taneyville, MO

Taneyville is a small village in north-central Taney County, Missouri, situated along Route 76 within the Branson Micropolitan Statistical Area. As of the 2020 census, it had a population of about 274 residents, though recent estimates place it closer to 190. The community has a very young median age, around 26 years, and a small workforce of under 100 employed residents. Household incomes have been rising in recent years, with the median income reaching just over $50,000. Housing remains affordable, with average home values near $110,000 and two-bedroom rentals under $1,000 per month, keeping the cost of living well below national levels.

The town’s economy is driven by small-scale, locally focused businesses and service industries. Employment is concentrated in areas such as professional services, construction and contracting, and personal service providers. Everyday commerce is supported by staples like the local Dollar General and restaurants such as the Wagon Wheel, which also cater to travelers passing through on Route 76. While the employment base is modest, Taneyville’s economic character reflects its identity as a rural Ozarks village, where affordability, community services, and locally owned businesses form the backbone of daily life.
