Carefree is set high in the Sonoran Desert amid lush terrain, ancient boulders and serene landscapes. This rich backdrop makes for some of the most interesting architecture in the state. Carefree offers a quiet refuge from the large cities while still catering to its residents and tourists year-round with festivals, fine dining, music and exquisite art. Carefree experiences slightly cooler, arid temperatures. The town is conveniently located just 30 minutes north of Scottsdale and 15 miles northeast of Phoenix.

Principal Economic Activities

The town is funded by a sales tax from local businesses and does not impose a property tax on its residents. Carefree was chosen in 2015 as one of the top places to retire outside of Phoenix, and as one of the top five best Phoenix suburbs to live in by online real estate source Movoto.com. The town emphasizes a “walkable community” within the town center that builds connectivity between the local residents and tourists. A substantial number of retail, restaurants and commercial establishments serve the residents. Carefree welcomes local franchises and unique shops that want to contribute to its walkability and healthy lifestyle.

Community Facilities

The town has its own fire station, medical and emergency services, grocery store, library and variety of non-profits such as the Caring Corp and Carefree Kiwanis supporting the residents and youth of the community. Many past and current residents are former corporate executives, professionals and entrepreneurs who have experienced tremendous success.
