JENKS, RIVER DISTRICT & HWY 75 CORRIDORS

Jenks is the vibrant shining star suburb adjacent to Tulsa's South side. This community has the premier public school system in the state. The progressive city leadership has attracted many large companies including Tulsa Winch, Kimberly Clark and Cogentric. The Arkansas River defines the East border of the Jenks market and offers the Tulsa River Parks system, the Oklahoma Aquarium, the Flying Tee and the River Spirit Casino. There are even strong rumors of a large outlet mall in this corridor.

Tulsa Hills Shopping is a corridor along US Highway 75 defining the Western border of the Jenks District. It is home to many national, regional and local companies and retail enterprises including Starbucks, Dick's Sporting Goods, Lowe's, Bed Bath and Beyond, Cracker Barrel, Chili's, Target and Sam's Club.

The West Main District, particularly 2900 West Main, will feature pad sites for restaurants, services and convenience stores. There are 10 additional larger sites for light and medium office uses, hotel and motel sites and a variety of other special applications. Lastly, there is a 12 acre single lot set aside for senior living, large office campus or can be subdivided.

West Main District

This area enjoys two major thoroughfares, US Highway 75 and the Creek Turnpike, providing easy access to all parts of the Tulsa market. Main Street (96th Street) is being widened to be a major East & West Boulevard, creating vital access to the Jenks / Riverwalk District. These linkages make this a hub for office, commercial and retail opportunities and makes it the fastest growing area in the Jenks / Tulsa market.
