GREENBRIER PARKWAY

The Greenbrier Parkway is a 7.3 million dollar roadway project to develop a divided four-lane highway from the Greenbrier exit on I-565 to the Huntsville Brownsferry exit on I-65, just east of Athens city limits. The 5 phase project was started in 2003 and phase 4-A was completed in 2021. Phase 5 is currently underway and will widen the existing Brownsferry road to connect with I-65.

The goal of the 6.5-mile parkway is to provide easier access from I-65 to Huntsville's growing industrial sector within Limestone county which includes the new Toyota-Mazda plant, Polaris, GE Aviation, Target's distribution center, and Amazon's distribution center. Another intended benefit is that the parkway will provide for an easy commute between Athens, Decatur, and Huntsville by allowing residents to bypass the interstates altogether.

As the project nears completion, Athens and Limestone county will continue to become prime development locations along this new corridor. Recently, Alabama Governor Kay Ivey announced that the Interstate 65 interchange at Tanner would be expanded and Huntsville Brownsferry Rd. would be widened to the intersection of U.S. Hwy 31 intersection.

This site being offered is located in at the heart of this quickly expanding area and directly across from the new Toyota-Mazda plant and backs up to Amazon's new distribution center.
