LOCATION DESCRIPTION

The Chain O'Lakes in Northeast Illinois is a sprawling waterway system with 15 interconnected lakes, spanning 7,100 acres of water and 488 miles of shoreline. It is the busiest inland recreational waterway per acre in the U.S., drawing weekend crowds of 30,000 and holiday gatherings of 100,000. Situated an hour's drive from Chicago, Milwaukee, and Rockford, it is a prime destination for boating and fishing enthusiasts.

The lakes are connected by the Fox River and man-made channels, with three natural lakes—Grass Lake, Lake Marie, and Nippersink Lake—alongside several others including Pistakee Lake, Fox Lake, and Bluff Lake. Grass Lake, where Dolphin Harbor Marina is located, is the third-largest lake in the system, covering 1,360 acres with an average depth of three feet.

Surrounding towns like Fox Lake, Lake Villa, Antioch, and McHenry contribute to the area's vibrant community. The Chain O'Lakes State Park, positioned at the northwest corner, offers camping, boating, hiking, and hunting, with rental cabins and trail systems available for outdoor enthusiasts.

This high-traffic waterway supports unrestricted boating horsepower and hosts seasonal events such as boat races and fishing tournaments. The local economy thrives with marinas, restaurants, and recreational businesses, making the Chain O'Lakes a premier destination for tourism and investment.
