ABOUT THE AREA

Established in 1875, Inglewood stands as Calgary’s oldest neighborhood, seamlessly blending historic charm with contemporary vibrancy. Situated just minutes from downtown Calgary, this dynamic community has evolved into a bustling hub for arts, culture, and commerce.

Inglewood’s main thoroughfare, 9th Avenue SE, is renowned for its eclectic mix of over 100 boutique shops, art galleries, eateries, and breweries, attracting both locals and tourists. This pedestrian-friendly street offers a unique shopping experience, making it an ideal location for retail ventures.

Inglewood’s strategic location offers excellent connectivity to major routes like Deerfoot Trail and International Avenue. The planned Ramsay/Inglewood CTrain station, part of Calgary’s Green Line project set to open in 2027, will further enhance accessibility, promising increased visitor flow and business opportunities.
