HIGHLY AMENITIZED RALEIGH-DURHAM LOCATION

3300 Regency occupies a premier location within Regency Park at the intersection of US Highway 1 and US Highway 64, providing seamless regional access throughout the Triangle. The properties are set within a distinguished park-like environment, bordered by the 150-acre Hemlock Bluffs State Park, Symphony Lake, and the Koka Booth Amphitheatre. Furthermore, Regency Park benefits from its proximity to some of Cary's most affluent neighborhoods, including MacGregor Downs and Lochmere, where executives and key decision makers reside, supported by strong demographics featuring an average household income of more than $150,000 and a median home value of nearly $800,000 within a 1-mile radius.

The location delivers immediate access to premier retail and lifestyle amenities at Crescent Commons and Waverly Place, anchored by Whole Foods, Lifetime Fitness, and a curated selection of upscale restaurants. Substantial population growth in Apex, Holly Springs, and Fuquay-Varina has repositioned this corridor from a peripheral location to a central node within the market's southward expansion. Regency Park now functions as a strategic gateway as the Triangle market continues its trajectory toward these high-growth southern municipalities.
