THE OPPORTUNITY:

CBRE is pleased to announce it has been retained to exclusively represent the sale of 66-70 East 129th Street, a vacant school building in the East Harlem submarket of Northern Manhattan. Located just west of Park Avenue, the property consists of 3 adjacent tax lots and features 8,268 square feet (Above Grade) along with 26,080 buildable square feet as-of-right, allowing flexibility an incoming investor, developer or user to reimagine this property.

66-70 East 129th Street is a well-maintained, 4 story school building with direct, level entry to the ground floor. The building features a multipurpose room on the ground floor and classrooms on the upper floors. The building also features an elevator, two stairways and bathrooms on each floor. Built 43.8' x 50.2' (Irregular) the building only has 2,067 square feet of lot coverage making way for 2,957 square feet of outdoor space including a large rear yard with mature trees and artificial turf. This building is move-in ready for a new school or daycare user.

Boasting 51.75' feet of frontage along a quiet, tree-lined block in East Harlem, 66-70 East 129th Street is split zoned and has 26,080 buildable square feet as-of-right for a new development. The property is excellently located in proximity to 125th Street, and benefits from easy access to the 4 5 6 2 3 & Metro north as well as the future N Q trains upon completion of the Second Avenue subway. The property is also a short walk to a plethora of restaurants and retail in a vibrant and evolving neighborhood. This site is perfect for a residential redevelopment that will benefit from the City of Yes zoning changes.

Zoning Information

East Harlem Rezoning

REZONING SUMMARY

On December 6th 2017, The City Council approved the East Harlem Rezoning plan. Under this approval, many properties located on specific avenues of East Harlem received a significant increase in development rights. There are many different zoning blocks within the larger district, each of which has its own unique characteristics and include an affordable housing component. The rezoning impacts specific blocks between East 104th Street and East 132nd Street between Second Avenue and Park Avenue

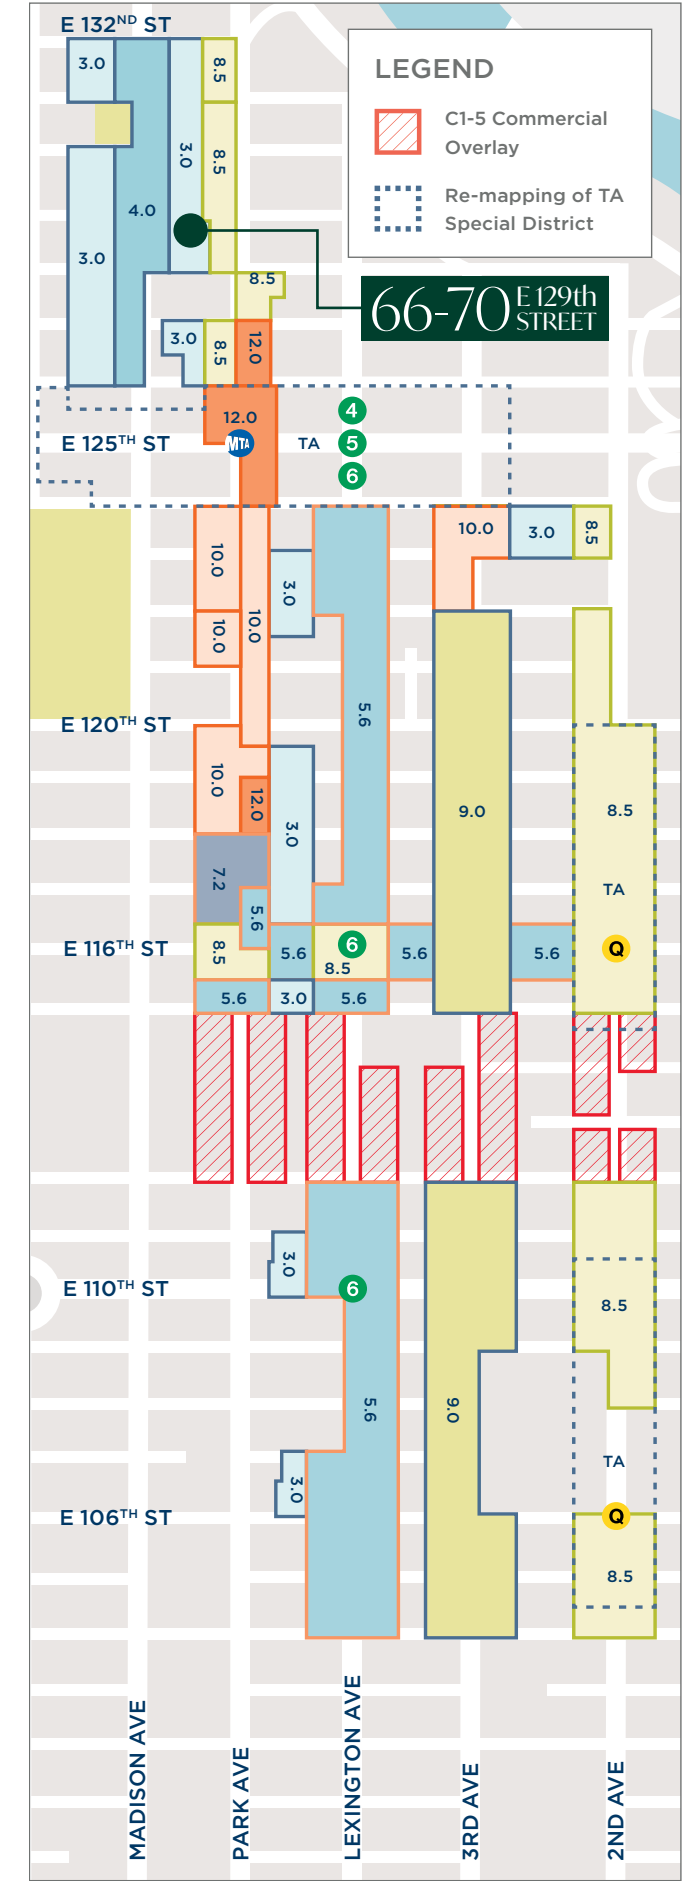

MANDATORY INCLUSIONARY HOUSING OPTIONS

There is a mandatory inclusionary housing requirement under the recently approved rezoning.

Option One: Requires that 25% of residential floor area to be made available to households earning 60% of AMI, on average. There is an additional stipulation that 10% of residential floor area will need to be made available to households earning 40% of AMI, on average.

Option Two: Requires that 20% of residential floor area be made available to households earning 40% of AMI, on average.

*FAR- Floor Area Ratio AMI- Area Median Income
 Additional information regarding the Mandatory Inclusionary Housing and Rezoning can be found at www.nyc.gov.

CITY OF YES

The "City of Yes" initiatives are part of New York City Mayor Eric Adams' comprehensive plan to revise zoning regulations to stimulate housing and economic growth.

3 MAIN COMPONENTS TO THIS PLAN:

CITY OF YES FOR ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITY (COYEO) GOALS:

- Modernize citywide zoning rules to support business growth and fill vacant storefronts.
- Implement 18 proposals to update zoning regulations, enabling businesses to open and expand in previously restricted areas.
- Promote job creation and strengthen small businesses across the five boroughs.

CITY OF YES FOR HOUSING OPPORTUNITY (COYHO) GOALS:

- Incentivize the construction of 58,000 to 109,000 new homes over 15 years.
- Contribute to the mayor's goal of adding 500,000 new housing units within a decade.
- Simplify and modernize zoning rules to facilitate housing development.
- Propose new residential districts with mandatory affordable housing requirements and high-density zoning.

CITY OF YES FOR CARBON NEUTRALITY GOALS:

- Remove zoning barriers to sustainable development and promote green infrastructure.
- Encourage eco-friendly practices, such as rooftop solar installations and other sustainable technologies.
- Support the city's broader efforts to achieve carbon neutrality and enhance environmental sustainability

IMPACT ON 66-70 EAST 129TH STREET:

66-70 East 129th Street is a split lot in multiple zoning districts (R7B / M1-6/R9, EHC)

GENERAL IMPACT:

Modernized and simplified zoning rules will lead to more flexible development options.

CITY OF YES FOR ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITY (COYEO):

Business Expansion: Allows for businesses to open and expand more easily.

Taller Buildings: May permit increased building heights around transit-rich areas,

CITY OF YES FOR HOUSING OPPORTUNITY (COYHO):

Increased Density: Allows for 20% larger buildings if additional units are affordable to households earning up to 60% of AMI.

Reduced Parking Requirements: Decreases the number of required parking spaces for new developments, making it easier to build housing

Infill Development: Facilitates development on large lots, potentially enabling more efficient use of space.

SPECIFIC ZONING DISTRICT CONSIDERATIONS:

R7B District: Medium-density residential buildings, benefiting from increased density and business expansion.

Neighborhood Overview

EAST HARLEM

East Harlem, also known as El Barrio, is a vibrant neighborhood in Upper Manhattan, rich with cultural history and a diverse community. Traditionally a hub for Puerto Rican culture, the neighborhood has diversified over the years. This melting pot of cultures is reflected in the area's lively streets, colorful murals, and diverse culinary offerings.

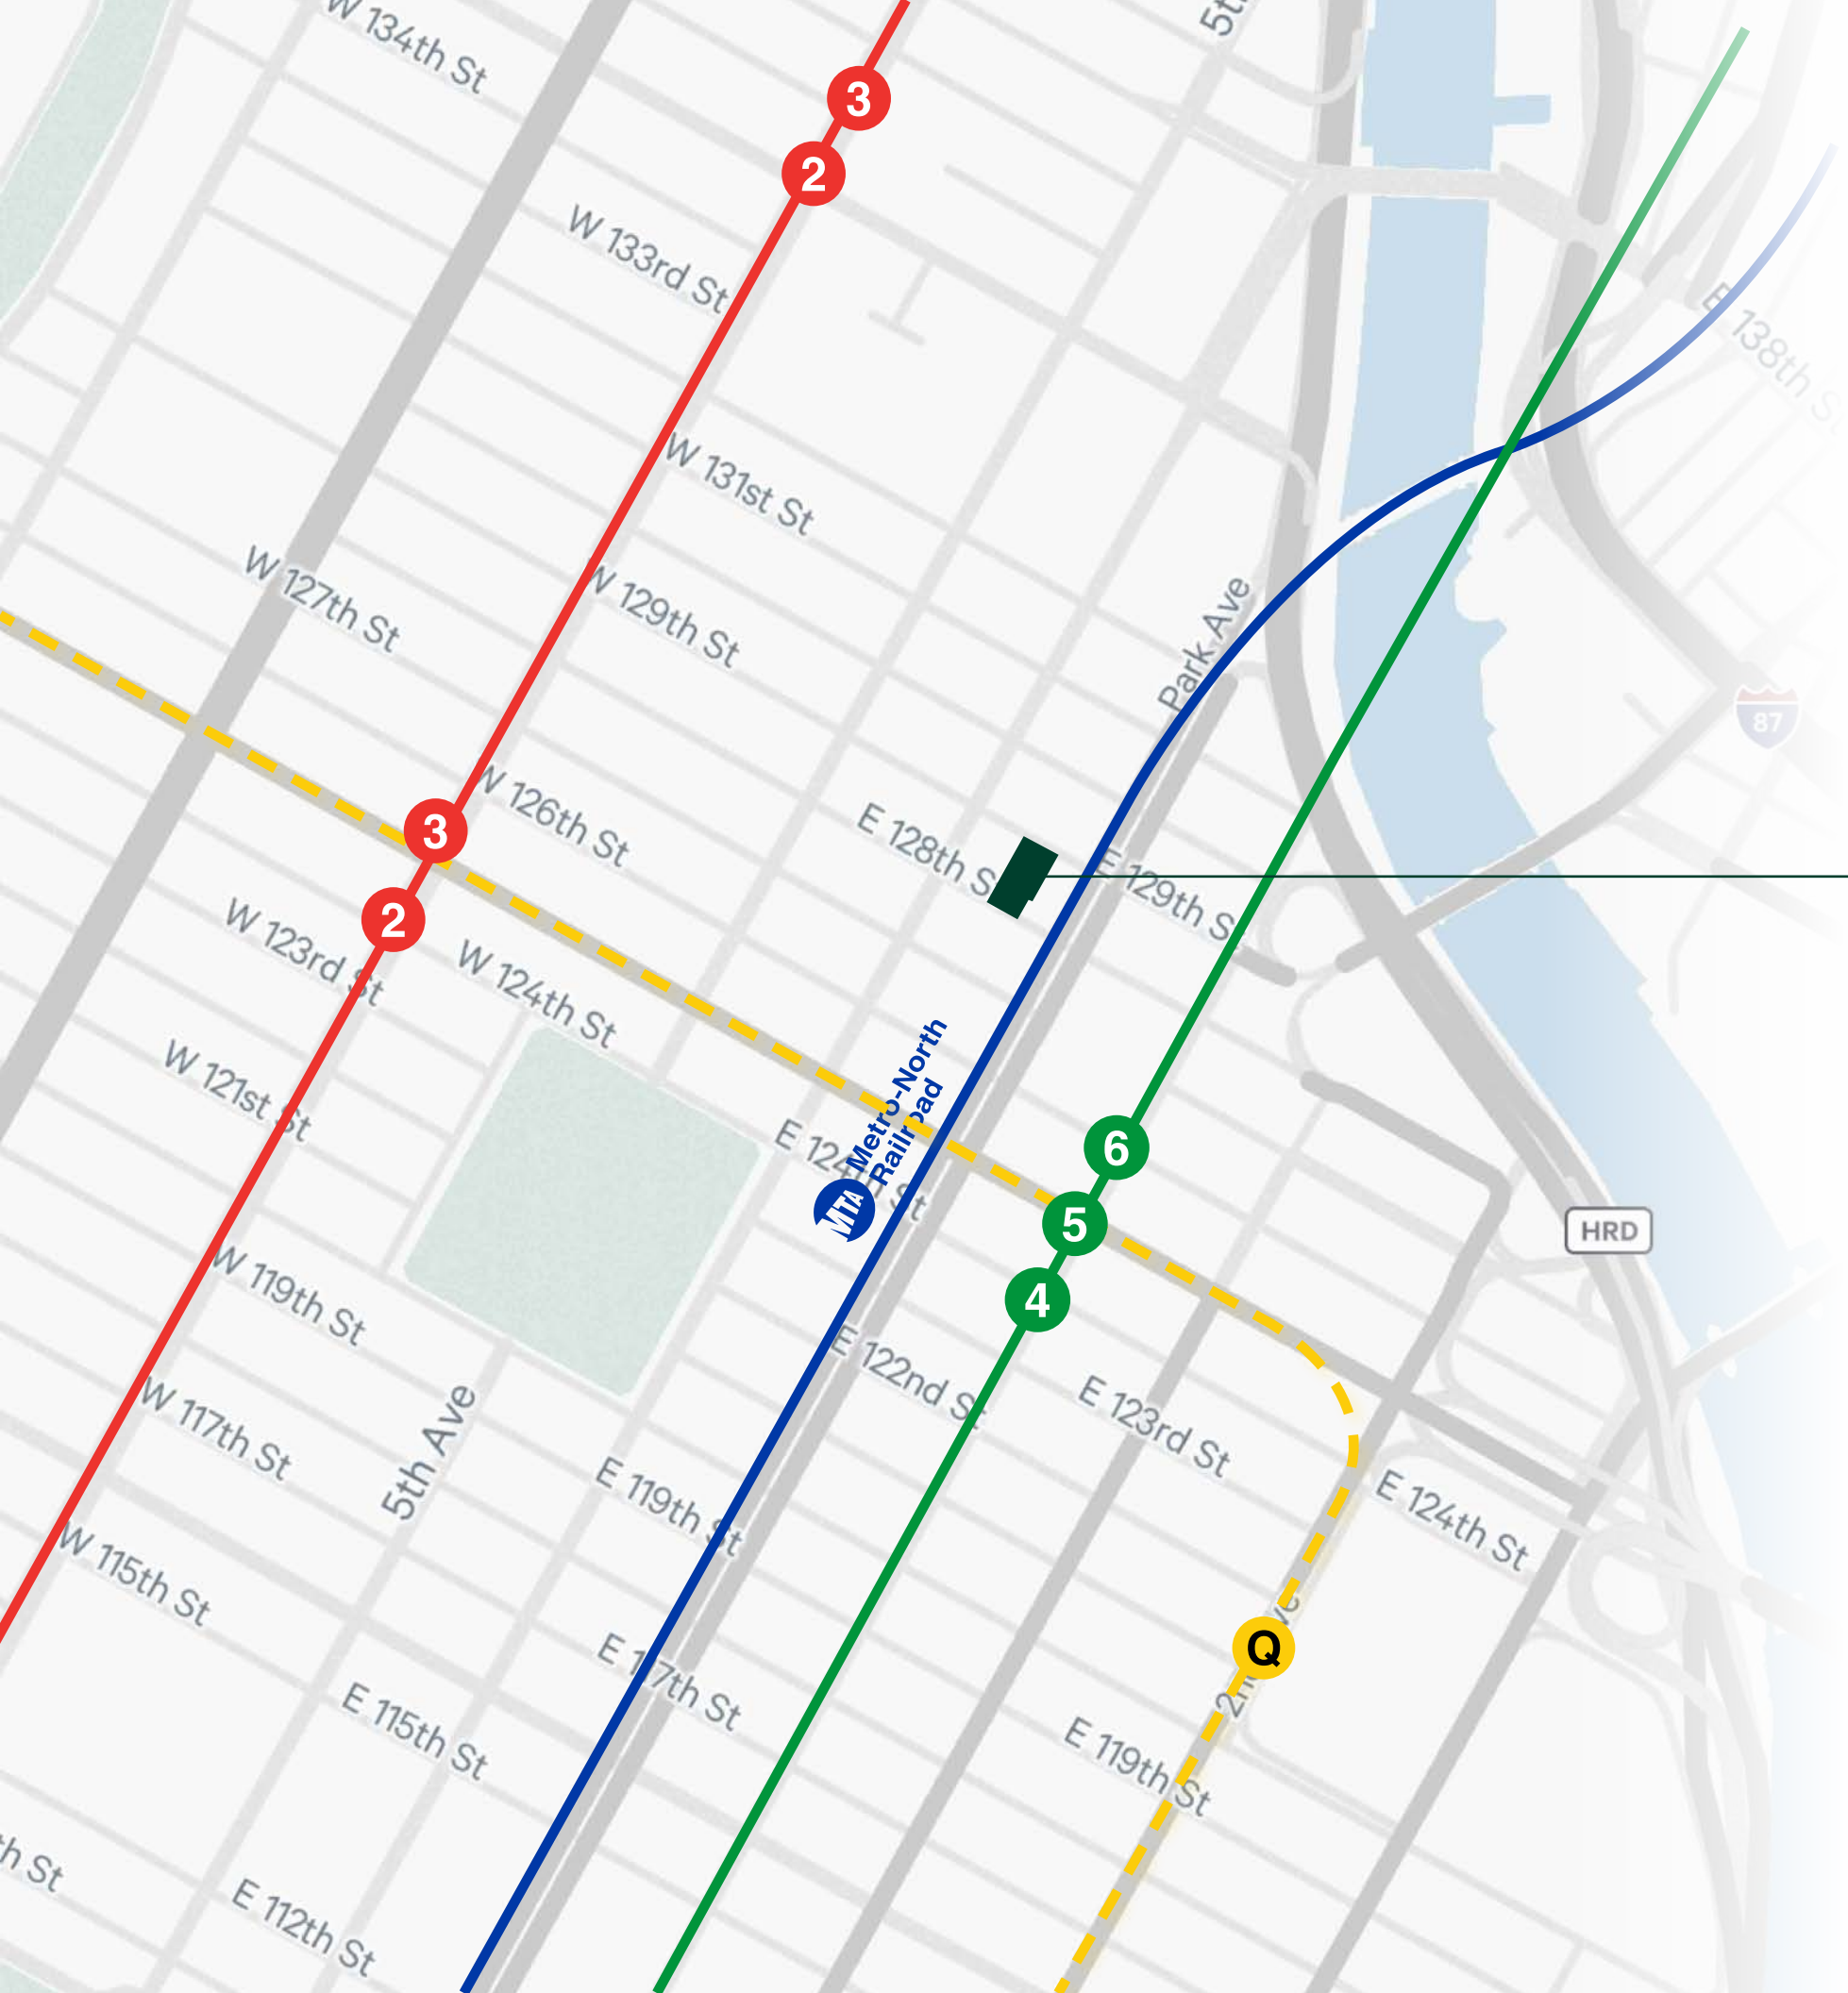

One of the main arteries of East Harlem is 125th Street, a bustling commercial corridor that blends the old with the new. This street is lined with a mix of retail establishments ranging from long-standing local businesses to national chains. Here, you can find everything from traditional Latin American groceries and bakeries to trendy boutiques and cafes. The historic La Marqueta, an iconic marketplace under the Metro-North tracks, offers a taste of the neighborhood's culinary traditions and local craftsmanship.

In recent years, East Harlem has seen significant new developments, signaling a phase of rapid transformation. Several new residential buildings have sprung up, bringing modern apartments and amenities to the area. Notable projects include Lexington Gardens II, a mixed-use development with residential units and retail space, and Sendero Verde, a sustainable project designed to provide residential units along with community services and green spaces. These developments aim to address housing demands while integrating with the existing community fabric.

The extension of the Second Avenue Subway to 125th Street is another major development poised to reshape the neighborhood. Once completed, this expansion will greatly enhance East Harlem's connectivity to the rest of Manhattan, making it more accessible and potentially driving further economic growth. The subway extension is expected to spur additional commercial and residential development, attracting new businesses and residents to the area.

Despite these changes, East Harlem remains deeply rooted in its cultural heritage. The Second Avenue Subway project has been designed with community input to ensure that it respects and enhances the neighborhood's unique character. Overall, East Harlem is a neighborhood where tradition and progress coexist harmoniously. Its streets tell the story of a community that cherishes its roots while embracing the future, making it one of Manhattan's most unique and evolving areas.
