THE VILLAGES

West Village is a vibrant, historic neighborhood known for its early 20th-century architecture, walkability, and mix of independent shops, cafes, and restaurants. Its strong sense of community and proximity to Belle Isle and downtown make it one of Detroit's most desirable residential areas. Just east, Indian Village is a prestigious historic district celebrated for its grand, architect-designed homes and leafy boulevards, offering a quieter, more residential atmosphere. Little Village, tucked between the two, is an emerging enclave where reinvestment is driving a fresh wave of development. Anchored by projects like The Shepherd arts campus, The Lantern bookstore and café, and new infill housing by Greatwater Homes, the neighborhood is quickly becoming a hub for creativity, design, and thoughtful urban living.

DEVELOPMENTS IN THE VILLAGES

the Shepherd

The campus grounds, designed by the Office of Strategy + Design (OSD), include a boutique bed and breakfast (ALEO), McArthur Binion's Modern Ancient Brown Foundation, a public skatepark designed by Tony Hawk, and a sculpture park honoring the late Detroit artist Charles McGee. The Shepherd is part of Library Street Collective's ongoing commitment to Detroit's Little Village neighborhood.

Lantern

A new mixed-use arts hub is being realized in East Village through the redevelopment of a 100-year-old vacant industrial complex that will house two local arts non-profits and include approximately 5,300 square feet of affordable artist studios, an art gallery, and 4,000 square feet of creative retail – all connected by a 2,000-square-foot courtyard.

Greatwater Homes

Greatwater hopes to build out an initial phase of 23 houses on both sides of Fischer Street over the next year to a year and a half. The houses would be built on spec in three general styles or can be customized. If demand holds up, the development firm could ultimately build as many as 200 houses in the area.

DETROIT DEVELOPMENTS

Hudson's Site

Hailed as the City's most significant development in decades, the development of the former Hudson's site in the Central Business District will include 1.5 million square feet of office, retail, restaurant, hotel, residential, and event spaces. Construction of the city's second tallest skyscraper is expected to be complete in 2024.

University of Michigan Center for Innovation

The $250 million, 200,000-square-foot building is being built by the University of Michigan to provide graduate education, talent-based community development, and community engagement. It's part of the larger $1.5 billion District Detroit development that includes new construction of 6 buildings and reuse of 4 historic properties.

Residences at Water Square

The residential skyscraper under construction at the former site of the Joe Louis Arena will be the biggest apartment tower to open on the Detroit riverfront in decades. The all-glass high-rise boasting 496 upscale units will open in 2024 with an all-seasons swimming pool, rooftop terrace, and fitness center.
