The Colorado-Big Thompson Project collects, stores and delivers more than 200,000 acre-feet of supplemental water each year. Melting snowpack in the Colorado River headwaters on the West Slope is diverted through a tunnel beneath the Continental Divide to approximately 1,021,000 million residents and 615,000 acres of irrigated farmland in Northeastern Colorado. Along the Front Range foothills, C-BT Project water is stored in three terminal reservoirs – Horsetooth Reservoir, Carter Lake and Boulder Reservoir.
