PROPERTY INFORMATION

Command attention with this striking former bank building featuring dramatic 20-foot ceilings throughout most of the main floor. The 4,376 SF main level offers open, light-filled space framed by classic glass-and-brick mid-century modern architecture, complemented by a 1,908 SF mezzanine overlooking the main floor – ideal for offices or creative workspace.

The property includes two drive-through lanes, a full basement for storage or potential expansion, and prime visibility at a signalized intersection along high-traffic S. Tacoma Way. This is a rare opportunity to repurpose an architecturally distinctive structure for retail, restaurant, financial, or professional use.

Former Heritage Bank building at signalized intersection on S. Tacoma Way has no bank/financial restriction. Impressive brick and glass construction with double drive through lanes, partial mezzanine and full basement. Great pylon and building signage.

RETAIL CORRIDOR

SOUTH TACOMA WAY

- » “Mid-century modern” style architecture gives strong identity
- » Double drive through is easily converted to additional parking
- » Bonus basement adds storage or additional square footage

This major arterial connects downtown Tacoma to State Route 512, where it turns into Pacific Highway SW and terminates at Joint Base Lewis/McChord.

This iconic brick and glass building is in the heart of Lakewood’s International District, a vibrant community “influenced by Korean, Vietnamese, Latino and other cultures”

(<https://www.nearcation.com/international-district>).

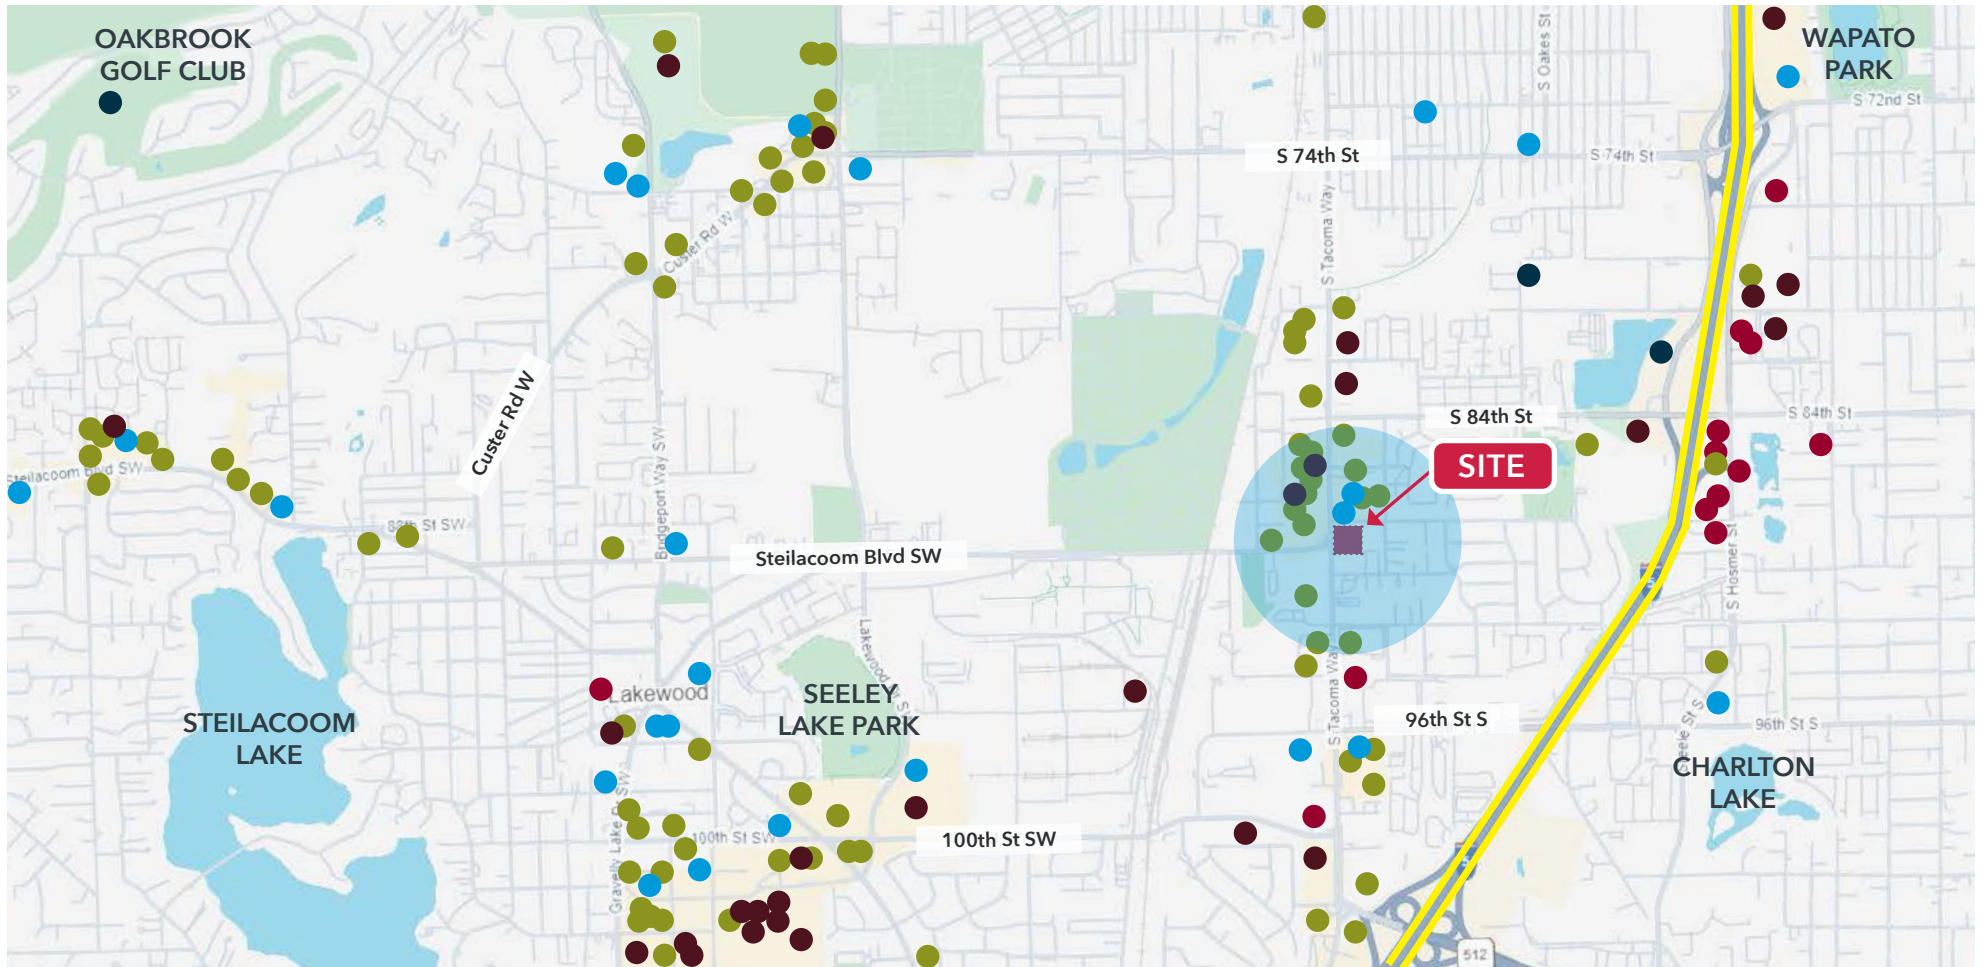

Located less than one mile from the SR 512/I-5 Interchange, and close to numerous retail, dining and other retail shops, the area also boasts a growing business park/industrial market.

The area is experiencing continued commercial and industrial growth, supported by a strong local and military presence.
