LEASE vs OWN COMPARISON

Owning your space can offer substantial financial advantages over leasing. Ownership not only provides meaningful long-term savings, but also unlocks additional value through greater control of occupancy costs, tax benefits, and property appreciation. Investing in ownership means that improvements to the building directly benefit you, further strengthening your investment. Over time, these factors combine to make ownership a more strategic and rewarding choice compared to leasing.

BENEFITS TO OWNERSHIP:

- Save More over Longer Term: Ownership is projected to be 21% less expensive over 10 years compared to leasing the same space.¹
- Control Your Costs: Greater certainty and flexibility over occupancy expenses.
- Build Equity & Value: Benefit from property appreciation and favorable tax advantages.
- Invest in Your Future: All improvements made to the space directly add to your asset value.

¹ Leasing costs reflect base rent and operating expenses; ownership costs include debt service, operating expenses, tax benefits of depreciation, equity appreciation, and principal reduction.
