This property sits in a vibrant retail corridor within the Ingram Park Mall trade area, benefiting from consistent consumer draw and steady demand.

Surrounding national brands—including Whataburger, Chick-fil-A, and Outback Steakhouse—generate excellent crossover traffic and solidify the site's role in a thriving commercial node. The corridor draws major employers like USAA, Valero Energy, and the South Texas Medical Center, alongside diverse retail, service, and institutional users.

Fueled by strong population growth, infrastructure expansion, and a solid employment base, the Northwest submarket continues to drive investment and sustained economic vitality. The property is also near Oliver Wendell Holmes High School (~2,570 students) and enjoys dense surrounding demographics: nearly 110,000 residents within a 3-mile radius and over 345,000 within 5 miles, with an average household income of approximately $80,896.

This offering delivers exceptional visibility, traffic, demographics, and upside business potential in one of San Antonio's most active retail environments; ideal for the next successful concept and long-term lease.
