Opportunity

Colliers is pleased to present for sale a two-storey heritage office building located in Victoria’s Central Business District, just one block away from the “centre ice” intersection of Fort and Douglas Streets.

The building was constructed in 1912 for British America Trust Co., with an addition built at the rear of the building in 1966. The striking architectural frontage offers a unique opportunity to locate in one of Victoria’s most attractive buildings.

An aerial photograph of Victoria, British Columbia, Canada. The city is built on a peninsula, with a large body of water (the Strait of Juan de Fuca) to the north and west, and the Inner Harbour to the east. The city features a mix of historic architecture, including a prominent red brick cathedral in the foreground, and modern high-rise buildings. A white location pin is placed on Fort Street in the city center. The Colliers logo is in the top left corner.
