

Shore Acres Lodge, situated at 15712 Grand Avenue, was a pie-shaped property extending down to the lake's edge. In the 1920s, it was a favorite of those camping with travel trailers and tents. Campers liked having access to the lake, as it was akin to having their own private beach.