“

The International-style building stands alone in the Crossroads as the ONLY property offering expansive floor plates awash in abundant natural light. The building presents an unmatched opportunity of mid-century architectural heritage and modern workplace efficiency.

“

Then, now, and deep into our shared future this building was and will be so much more than a corporate headquarters. The TWA Building is an anchor emblematic of neighborhood transformation and community stewardship.

“

The TWA Building has special significance in Kansas City. It's an iconic building inside and out. We were lucky to call it home for the last 20 years.

The building and the Crossroads neighborhood will always be a critical part of our story. It's a one-of-a-kind space that allowed us to build our culture, our brand and our business in a way that I don't know we would have been able to do from anywhere else.
