Market Description

The City of Santa Paula, and Ventura County overall, lack available land for sale. The industrial real estate market is still strong in Southern California. High interest rates dampen activity, but rates are expected to drop. The lack of new construction due to lack of available land and difficulty permitting projects throughout Ventura County will keep existing product in very high demand.

City of Santa Paula

The property has easy access to Hwy 126 which connects Ventura, Santa Paula, Fillmore and Santa Clarita. The City of Santa Paula, California is located 65 miles northwest of Los Angeles, 14 miles east of Ventura and the coastline of the Pacific Ocean, and just 30 miles west of the rapidly growing city of Valencia. Santa Paula is the geographical center of Ventura County, situated in the rich agricultural Santa Clara River Valley. The City is surrounded by rolling hills and rugged mountain peaks in addition to orange, lemon and avocado groves. Santa Paula is referred to as the “Citrus Capital of the World.” The community has a quaint, small-town image, ideal climate and reasonably priced housing. Santa Paula maintains its own identity and is in close proximity to the many tourist, recreational, and cultural activities that abound in Southern California.
