BUSINESS SUMMARY

Rolling Fatties

Rolling Fatties® is an established restaurant operation located in Kingfield, Maine, serving the High Peaks region and the Sugarloaf Resort market. Operating for more than 12 years under current ownership, the business is offered as a turnkey opportunity including all furniture, fixtures, and equipment necessary for continued operation.

The restaurant offers both dine-in and takeout service, with a dedicated bar area as well as the seasonal “Sniki Bar” featuring an outdoor bar and picnic table seating. Interior seating accommodates approximately 40 patrons, with additional outdoor seating for approximately 30 patrons during the operating season.

The menu centers on Fatties (burritos), bowls, and related offerings featuring locally sourced ingredients. The drinks menu features a wide selection of Maine craft beer, spirits, and non-alcoholic beverages.

Sugarloaf Resort, located approximately 20 minutes west in Carrabassett Valley, is one of the premier four-season destinations in the Northeast, attracting significant seasonal visitation for skiing, golfing, mountain biking, hiking, and other outdoor recreation. The resort’s Robert Trent Jones Jr. designed golf course has received recognition among Maine’s and New England’s leading public courses.

The business may be purchased independently or in combination with the underlying real estate, which includes a second-floor owner’s living space. An optional food truck, previously utilized for festivals and special events throughout Maine, may also be available and provides an opportunity for additional revenue generation.

The current owners operate on a limited schedule of approximately 26 hours per week. Expanded operating hours may provide an opportunity for increased sales volume, subject to market conditions and management strategy.

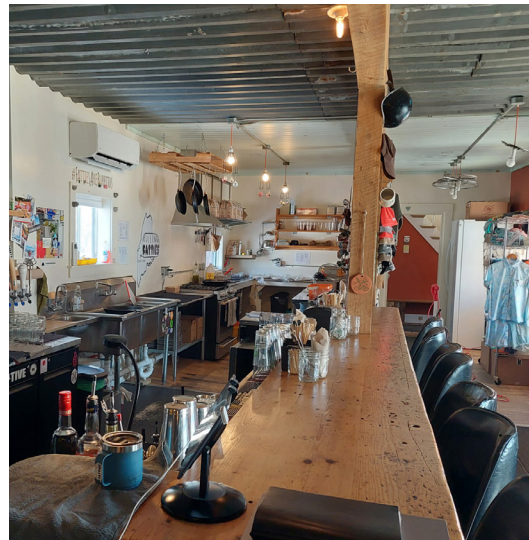

Additional opportunities include a separate tortilla production operation for buyers interested in vertical integration as well as an adjoining development parcel. The tortilla production equipment is not included in the current offering unless otherwise negotiated.

Seller financing may be available to qualified purchasers with a substantial down payment.
