LOCATION OVERVIEW

Anna, Texas

Anna, Texas, is quickly becoming one of North Texas's most promising markets for commercial real estate and business development. Conveniently located in Collin County along the busy U.S. 75 corridor, Anna offers exceptional access to the DFW Metroplex with a pro-business, community-focused environment. Rapid residential expansion - driven by master-planned developments like Sherley Farms - and the planned revitalization of a vibrant downtown entertainment district are fueling strong demand for retail, office, and light industrial space. Continued infrastructure investment, including the new Hurricane Creek wastewater facility, supports sustainable growth and future commercial opportunities. With a growing population, strategic location, and city leadership committed to smart development, Anna is a top destination for investors, developers, and tenants seeking long-term opportunity in North Texas commercial real estate.
