Riverside, California

Riverside has a rich history dating back to its incorporation in 1870. From its earliest days, the city has thrived under the guidance of forward-thinking founders and successive leaders. Evident within the community is an innovative and artistic spirit that permeates the culture of its residents.

Today, Riverside is a leading Southern California city offering a blend of hometown charm, history, and hospitality with the vision, energy, culture, and diversity of a sophisticated metropolitan area. With a population exceeding 317,558 residents, Riverside proudly holds the title of the 12th largest city in California and the 6th largest in Southern California, serving as the economic powerhouse of one of the fastest growing regions in the United States.

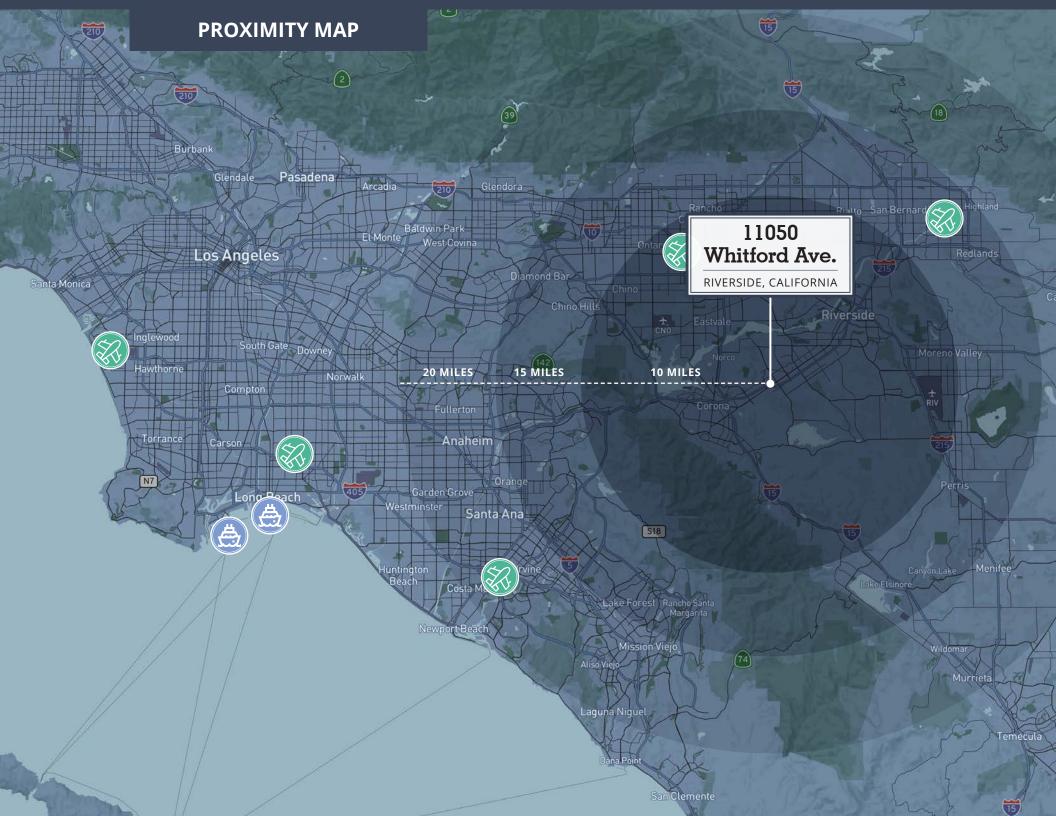

Riverside's economy thrives due to a variety of industries including advanced manufacturing, quality retail and services, four major medical facilities and institutions of higher education, local agriculture and related food system enterprises, and a growing base of clean- and green-tech research, development, technology, and manufacturing companies. As an important financial and professional center, Riverside offers the support of numerous legal, accounting, brokerage, architectural and engineering, air quality, sustainability and environmental stewardship firms, as well as banking institutions.

Riverside draws interest and investment from a diverse population of creative and entrepreneurial residents, employees, students, business owners, and visitors. This community's excellence in embracing technology, workforce development, digital inclusion, arts, innovation, collaboration, and social capital continue to improve an already remarkable quality of life.
