PLEASANTVILLE

A CULTURAL CENTER FOR FILM, MUSIC, AND THE ARTS

Pleasantville's reputation as a cultural center was enhanced in 2001 with the opening of the non-profit Jacob Burns Film Center in the landmark Rome Theater, a Spanish mission-style building and one of the first movie theaters in Westchester County. Dedicated to presenting independent, documentary, and world cinema, the Jacob Burns Film Center and Media Arts Lab is a world-renowned cultural space. Housing a state-of-the-art theater complex, a 27,000 SF Media Arts Lab and a residence for international filmmakers, it provides opportunities for people of all ages to discover, explore and learn through the power of film, media, and current production technology.

PLEASANTVILLE'S MUSIC SCENE

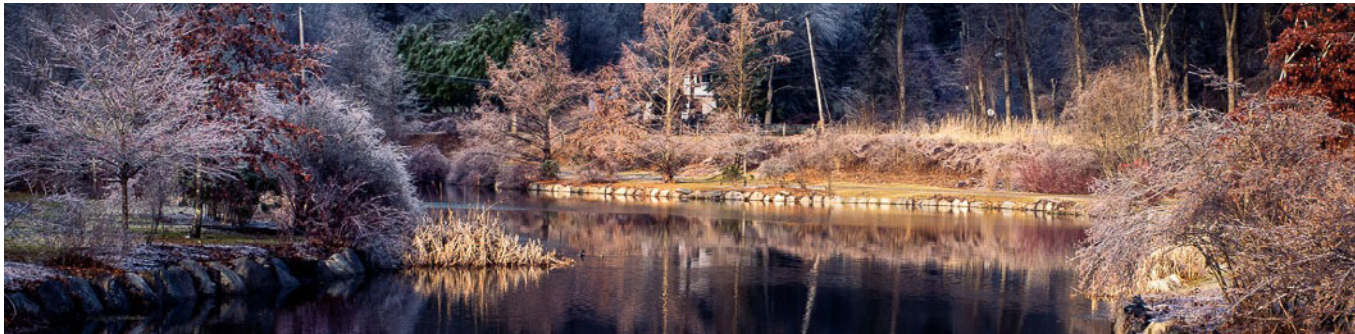

On the second Saturday in July, Pleasantville hosts the Pleasantville Music Festival, an all-day outdoor event located at the Parkway. Performers have included Roger McGuinn, The Bacon Brothers, Dawes, Jakob Dylan, Robert Randolph, Jakob Dylan, Marc Cohn, Dar Williams, Marc Cohn, and Joan Osborne.

TOP TIER DEMOGRAPHICS

Pleasantville, NY is primarily home to affluent, highly educated professionals — 56.9% of households fall into the Top Tier segment, the wealthiest market group in the U.S. With average net worths exceeding $3M and incomes over three times the national median, these residents live comfortably in upscale, owner-occupied homes in suburban neighborhoods. Most are married couples, either without children or with older children, and many have transitioned into consulting or entrepreneurial roles after reaching corporate success.

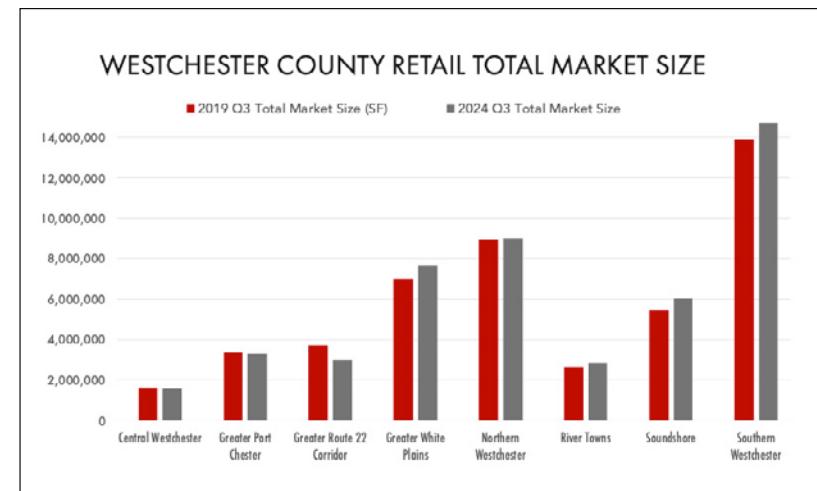

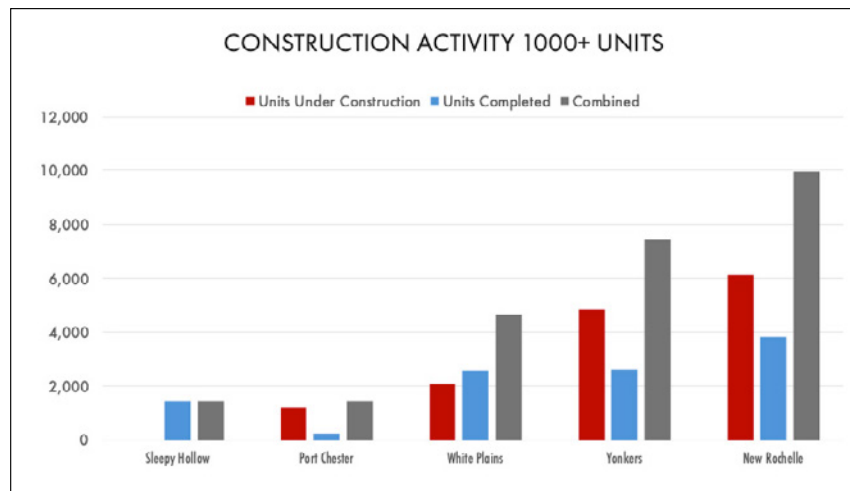

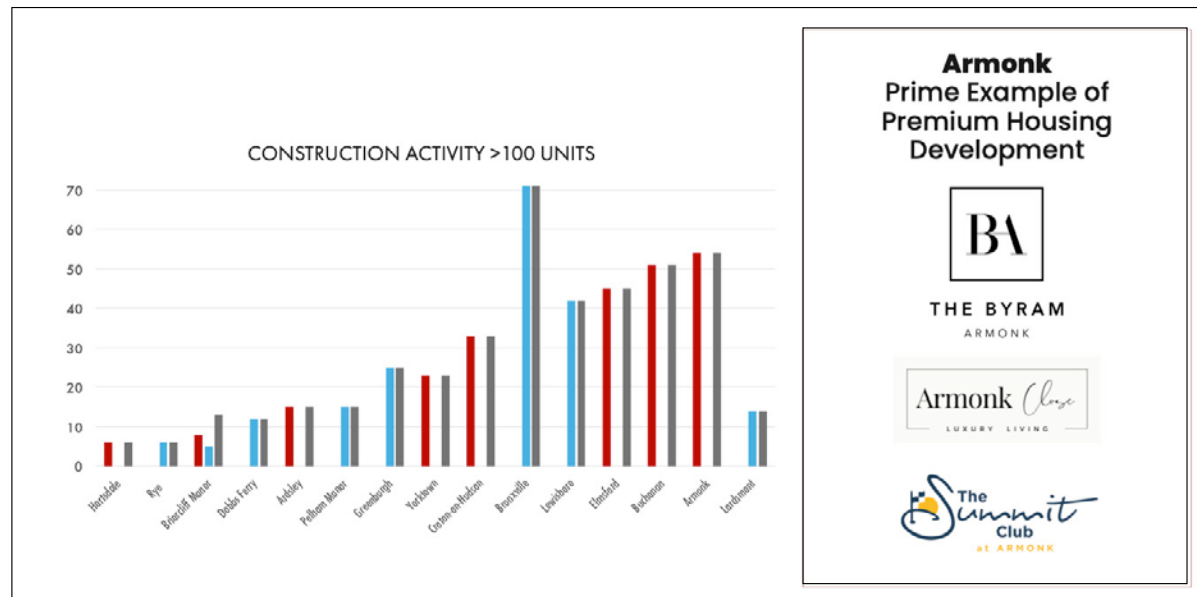

Residents invest in their health and appearance through regular visits to salons, spas, and fitness centers, and they frequently travel, enjoying both domestic and international vacations. They are active consumers — tech-savvy, well-read, socially responsible, and loyal to premium retailers. Their days are filled with cultural pursuits such as opera and charity events, while their evenings are spent cooking, reading, or enjoying time with close friends and family. With strong financial acumen and access to trusted advisers, Pleasantville's residents maintain investment portfolios and robust insurance coverage, ensuring their continued prosperity and well-being.
