

1 Scalability

You can add or subtract an office as the size of your firm changes, during your contract term. If you sign for three offices for three partners, and during your contract term one of the partners departs, you can terminate the office he/she was using with a one month notice. This allows the firm to scale costs with revenues better than a traditional lease.

2 Legal Admin Support

We staff our locations with paralegals and law clerks that can handle document preparation, court filings, client intake/relationship management, billing/collections, etc.. You can utilize their services on-demand and your firm only pays for the time they spend working; no overhead costs like insurance, PTO, computers, or office space.

3 Built-In Attorney Networking

We currently support 700+ legal professionals in our downtown locations, with expertise over 26 practice areas. Making connections from an Amata location is as easy as making a cup of coffee. Our clients prove time and again to be engaged, friendly, and active legal professionals who find importance in building strong networks. More structured opportunities are also available from networking socials to complimentary CLEs.

4 Legal Work Environment

Our floors are in class A buildings with custom build outs designed to craft a quiet, discreet office space, void of Amata branding. With ample file storage, social areas like cognac rooms and cafés, and a variety of conference room options, our suites are built to accomodate every need.

5 Customized Contracts

Contracts with flexibility built right into them. We've had nearly two decades of experience providing office space for attorneys and have arranged contracts with benefactor clauses as well as set up individual contracts for firms structured as associations. If you have particular needs, we will work to make sure the contract suits your firm's needs.

6 Remote Work Options

Telecommute or work remotely from anywhere, but have your firm 'located' in downtown Chicago by signing up for a Mail Only, Phone Only or Virtual Law Office program. Have anything and everything but the permanent office: a mailing address, a live receptionist to field your calls, access to our conference rooms, common space and day offices to work from, plus access to all our staff and service offerings.
