ABOUT THE NORTH LOOP

What used to be neglected, largely-abandoned section of Minneapolis is now one of the City's most vibrant and walkable neighborhoods, with award-winning restaurants, fashionable boutiques, lively taprooms and Major League Baseball just steps away. The North Loop has become THE neighborhood in which to live and work, as well as an arts, entertainment, shopping and dining destination. Forbes Magazine calls the North Loop "One of America's Best Hipster Neighborhoods." Fodors Travel Guide put it on a list of 25 places in the world that avid travelers should check out. Thrillist raves about the "rags to riches" story. It's not just the old warehouses, factories and livestock facilities have been given new life here. It's the fact that many of them have been transformed into something truly exceptional. For instance, a former horse stable is now a nationally-acclaimed restaurant, Spoon & Stable, run by James Beard Award-Winning Chef Gavin Kaysen. An old farm implement warehouse is now the stylish, Hewing Hotel, proclaimed "Best Hotel in the Midwest" by Conde Nast Traveler readers and one of the Most Instagrammable Hotels in the US by National Geographic. A former horsecar storage facility from the 1880s is now home to high-end shops, most notably MartinPatrick3 which Forbes Magazine called "the hottest retailer in America's hottest retailing city". Businesses, especially creative and tech firms, have also gravitated to the North Loop, finding the old warehouse spaces, ease of transportation, neighborhood amenities and neighborhood energy particularly well-suited to their needs. The North Loop is also home to a gorgeous section of the Mississippi River where cyclists, joggers and pedestrians enjoy well-maintained trails and families enjoy the playground in a city park that features tall trees and views of the Minneapolis skyline. The light rail station at Target Field provides direct access to MSP Airport, US Bank Stadium, Allianz Field, the University of Minnesota, Downtown St. Paul and other destinations. And the North Loop's momentum keeps building as more people and businesses take note of this urban success story and decided they too want to invest in its future.
