Population

Mesa is the third largest city in Arizona, after Phoenix and Tucson, and the 36th largest city in the U.S. Mesa is the central city of the East Valley of the Metro Phoenix area. It is bordered by Tempe on the west, the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community on the north, Chandler and Gilbert on the south and Apache Junction on the east.

Mesa stretches over 133 square miles and is larger than Miami, Minneapolis, Atlanta and St. Louis. Located in Maricopa County and just 15 miles east of Phoenix, Mesa is a community of over 517,302 residents. The average aged resident in the Mesa area is 36, with a median household income of $67,337.

Employment

Mesa offers a competitive operating environment. Economic development priorities are guided by Mesa's targeted industries of opportunity: healthcare, education, aerospace/aviation, technology and tourism. Mesa has a diverse economy with multiple business districts including Downtown Mesa, Falcon District, Fiesta District, Superstition Freeway Corridor, Mesa Riverview and the Mesa Gateway area. All of Mesa's districts have the necessary infrastructure and attributes to help businesses succeed. Each also has a unique set of qualities that are especially suited for specific industry segments and business needs.

The Mesa Gateway area is home to a large number of international aerospace, defense, heavy industrial, manufacturing and technology companies as well as numerous educational institutions. The Mesa Gateway area hosts world-class players including Embraer, Cessna, Able Engineering, Nammo Talley and Orbital ATK. In the area you will also find ground-breaking technology companies such as the Arizona Center for Algae Technology and Innovation, the Cognitive Engineering Research Institute, Arizona Laboratories for Security & Defense Research (AZ Labs), Bridgestone Biorubber Process Research Center and the forthcoming Apple Global Command Center.

The Falcon District is home to a large cluster of world-class aerospace and defense companies on and surrounding Falcon Field Airport, as well as leading-edge, international players in the advanced manufacturing and business services sectors. The area boasts market leaders in aerospace, defense and aviation including The Boeing Company, MD Helicopters, Aeromaritime, GECO Inc., Heliponents, Marsh Aviation and CAE Oxford.

The Superstition Freeway Corridor runs from the edge of Tempe in the west to the Superstition Mountains in the east. The corridor is anchored by the US-60. Many of the nation's largest insurance firms fill regional headquarters with the tens of thousands of white-collar workers who live in the east valley. Thirty large manufacturing firms and six mining companies provide a skilled labor force for firms looking to build anything from aftermarket ATV parts to military satellites. Large employers include Santander, Trane, United Solutions, Esurance, Komatsu Mining and National General Insurance.

Education

Mesa is home to an impressive array of top-rated educational institutions and collaborative partnerships that focus on producing a workforce that is technologically prepared and possesses a strong work ethic. More than 40,000 students are enrolled in higher education in Mesa at schools including Arizona State University (ASU) Polytechnic, Chandler-Gilbert Community College, Mesa Community College, A.T. Still University, Northern Arizona University-Mesa, Upper Iowa University, Wilkes University and Benedictine University to name a few.

Mesa Public Schools is the largest school district in Arizona, and the 61st largest in the country. It is recognized nationally for its superb educational programs and student achievements in academics, sports, creative and performing arts as well technical and career training. The K-12 education system in Mesa includes public, as well as a number of private and parochial school systems.

Considered a model for career and technical education by the U.S. Department of Education, the East Valley Institute of Technology (EVIT) provides students with hands-on, advanced skills and training in over 40 occupation-specific programs. EVIT is a public school district with two campuses that serve students from 10 East Valley school districts.

Lifestyle/Entertainment

Mesa is home to the largest arts and cultural complex in the Southwest. The national award-winning Mesa Arts Center, Mesa Amphitheater and the Mesa Convention Center, are all located in Mesa. Museums of note include the Arizona Museum of Youth, Mesa Historical Museum, Arizona Museum of Natural History and the Commemorative Air Force Museum. Archaeological sites include the Mesa Grande Ruins and the Park of the Canals. Mesa has three public libraries, is home to Symphony of the Southwest, Millennial Choirs and Orchestras, Southwest Shakespeare Company and many other theater and performing arts groups.

Mesa has dynamic athletic facilities including four recreation centers, eight specialty sports complexes, nine aquatics facilities, 20 tennis courts, 57 parks, 71 multi-purpose athletic fields and a myriad of sports throughout the city that cater the athletes young and old.

Since 1953 Mesa has been the spring training baseball home of the 2016 World Series Champions, the Chicago Cubs. In 2014, the Cubs moved into the newly constructed Sloan Park, located within Riverview Park. The Oakland A's also call Mesa home, where they play at HoHoKam Stadium, which for many years was the home of the Cubs.

Housing

Consistently ranked as a top city to live in, Mesa has quickly grown into a destination for individuals and families seeking both a high-quality and economical lifestyle.

This area has many shopping centers (including Mesa Riverview), spring-training venues, golf courses and affordable neighborhoods – such as Dobson Ranch, the area’s biggest and most prominent community.
