GEOGRAPHIC LOCATION

Access to Markets

The Valley's geographic positioning allows businesses to reach a significant portion of the U.S. population within a day's drive. This access is key for industries requiring rapid distribution channels to major urban centers, including Washington D.C., Philadelphia, New York, and Atlanta.

Workforce and Education

A strong local workforce supported by educational institutions, including 7 technical schools and 11 colleges/universities, fuels the industrial sector. Initiatives aimed at workforce development ensure a steady supply of skilled labor pertinent to various industries. Collaborations between the private sector and educational institutions foster specialized training programs that align with the needs of industries in the area.

Affordable Cost of Doing Business

Compared to other regions in the Eastern U.S., the Shenandoah Valley often offers a more cost-effective environment for businesses. This includes competitive land and property prices, lower costs of living, and attractive incentives from both state and local governments aimed at fostering industrial growth.

Quality of Life

Besides logistical and economic benefits, the Shenandoah Valley is known for its natural beauty, recreational opportunities, and quality of life. This aspect can be instrumental in attracting and retaining top talent, a critical factor for businesses in today's competitive landscape.

Supportive Business Environment

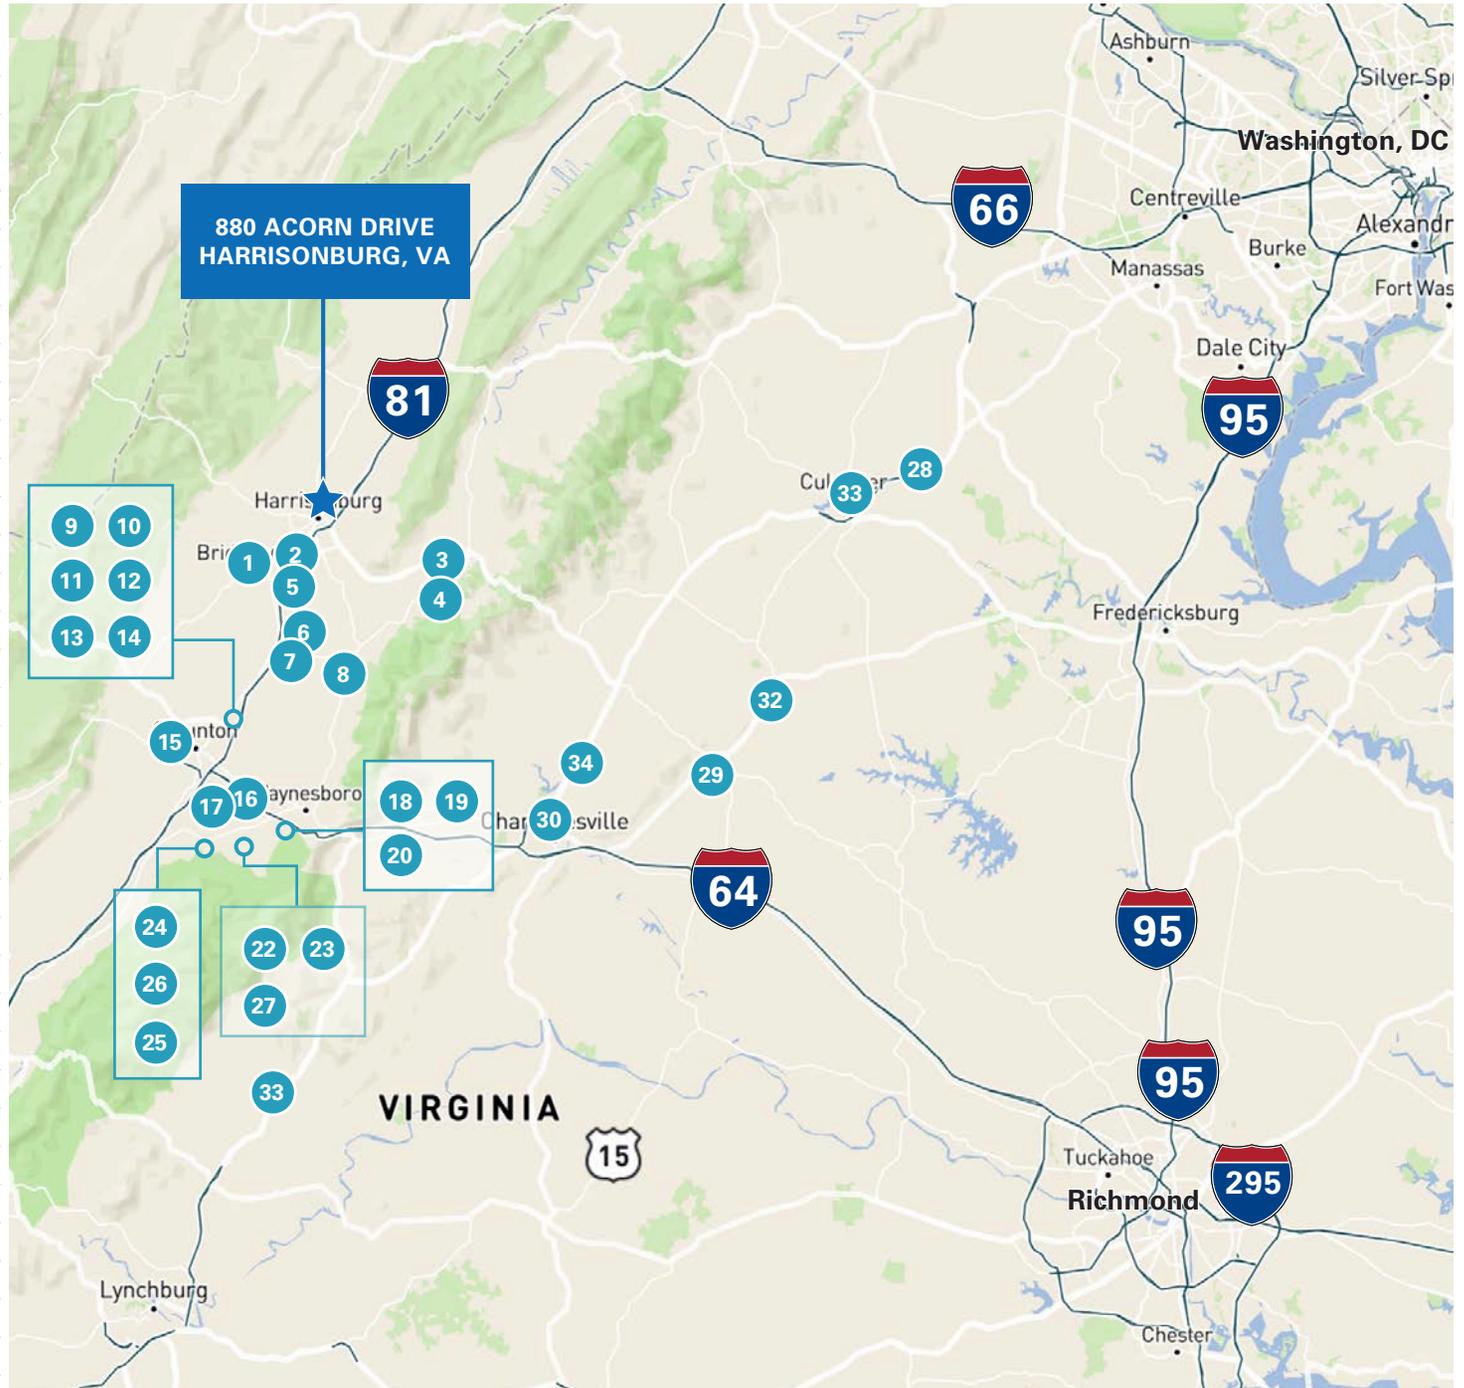

Virginia's business-friendly policies, combined with active economic development efforts in the Shenandoah Valley, create a supportive environment for industrial companies. The area offers various incentives such as tax credits, financing, and grants designed to aid the establishment and expansion of businesses.

These strategic advantages make the Shenandoah Valley an attractive location for industrial operations, offering a blend of logistic efficiency, market access, skilled labor, and a supportive economic environment that can drive business success.

LOCATION OVERVIEW

880 ACORN DRIVE
HARRISONBURG, VA

SERVED BY TWO OF THE NATION'S LARGEST RAILROADS

The region is predominantly served by CSX and Norfolk Southern rail with 3,000+ miles of track. The extensive rail system supported by two Class I railroads synergistically supports the other facets of the region's excellent freight distribution infrastructure, including two major international ports, multiple intermodal transportation hubs and the broad interstate network.

2ND DENSEST INTERSTATE SYSTEM

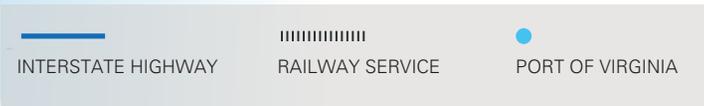

The region is served by an extensive network of well-maintained and efficient interstates including I-81, I-95, I-64, I-77 and I-85. The connectivity and density of these north/south and east/west freight highways make local to international distribution highly efficient. Several key highlights include:
