City Overview

Olathe, Kansas is the fourth most populous city in the state of Kansas. Olathe's commercial and industrial parks are home to many companies, including Honeywell, Husqvarna, ALDI, Garmin, Grundfos, and Farmers Insurance Group. Although Farmers Insurance is based in Los Angeles, California, Olathe has more of its employees than any other city in the United States.

Olathe is part of the Kansas City major metropolitan area, located on Interstate 35 just 19 miles southwest of downtown Kansas City and is county seat to Johnson County, one of the wealthiest counties in the United States.

There's endless fun, whether you prefer sipping drinks and admiring art, teeing up for a round of golf or making a splash at the water park. Spend a weekend perusing some of the best restaurants, shopping, attractions and events in Kansas, or extend your stay and discover the historic charm and modern luxury of scenic hiking trails, live entertainment and thrilling family attractions.
