Keep Your Contact Information Current

This month, Central Electric Cooperative will issue statements regarding Capital Credits. Capital Credits are a portion of net margins allocated to members based on their electrical usage. The allotted amount is held in a capital fund by CEC to help finance various long-term capital needs like trucks, equipment, and power line construction. When financial conditions permit, CEC returns Capital Credits to members in the form of a check. To ensure you receive your Capital Credits, keep CEC informed of changes in your contact information, such as phone numbers, mailing address, and email address. All are kept strictly confidential and used to provide quality customer service.

You can update your information online at www.cec.coop by selecting the Change Account Info under the Your Account tab.
