LOCATION OVERVIEW

Walla Walla, WA

AGRICULTURE

ECONOMY

EDUCATION

As one of Washington's oldest communities, Walla Walla County is the primary population center of the state's southeast region. The City of Walla Walla serves as the county seat; with nearly 35,000 residents, it accounts for approximately 55% of the county's total population of 62,000.

As a premier regional center for Southeastern Washington and Northeastern Oregon, the Walla Walla Valley is anchored by its leadership in agriculture, healthcare, viticulture, manufacturing, and higher education.

While famous for wheat, asparagus, and the iconic Walla Walla Sweet Onion, the region has also evolved into a premier wine destination. Since 1984, the valley has expanded to over 130 wineries throughout.

Walla Walla is a key Pacific Northwest logistics hub with robust infrastructure, including major rail lines (BNSF and Union Pacific), river barges, and a modern regional airport.

The city is a hub for higher learning, home to Whitman College, Walla Walla University, and Walla Walla Community College, in total enrolling 6,000+ students.
