EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

1770–1810 Lemoyne Avenue presents a premier partially leased industrial investment opportunity in the heart of Syracuse's established industrial corridor. The property totals 138,698 square feet (with roughly 7% being office space) across a 6.33-acre site and was originally built in 1951 with a comprehensive 2024 renovation that enhances both functionality and long-term durability. The building features 14'–22' clear heights, 13 dock-high doors, and 6 drive-in doors, offering efficient loading capabilities and strong appeal to distribution, warehousing, and light manufacturing users. With existing in-place tenancy and remaining availability for future occupancy, the asset provides a compelling blend of current income and lease-up upside. The I-1 zoning supports a wide range of industrial uses, reinforcing long-term flexibility and tenant demand.

Strategically located just off Hiawatha Boulevard and minutes from I-690, I-81, and the New York State Thruway (I-90), the property provides immediate regional and interstate connectivity. Its proximity to Downtown Syracuse, Syracuse Hancock International Airport, and the growing logistics and manufacturing base throughout Central New York—further fueled by Micron's transformative semiconductor investment—positions 1770–1810 Lemoyne Avenue as a highly accessible industrial asset within one of the region's most supply-constrained submarkets.

INVESTMENT HIGHLIGHTS

Prime Location & Accessibility: Positioned just minutes from I-690, I-81, and the NYS Thruway (I-90), the property offers immediate access to regional and interstate transportation routes, Downtown Syracuse, and Syracuse Hancock International Airport.

Expansive Space: 138,698 SF across a 6.33-acre site delivers scale for multi-tenant industrial occupancy while still providing flexibility for future leasing, operational expansion, or reconfiguration.

Strategic Features: Recent 2024 renovations combined with partial occupancy create an attractive value-add opportunity with existing cash flow and remaining lease-up potential in a tightening Central New York industrial market.

Industrial Infrastructure: Featuring 14'–22' clear heights, 13 dock-high doors, and 6 drive-in doors, the property is well-equipped for warehousing, distribution, manufacturing, and high-throughput industrial operations.

Zoning Advantage: I-1 industrial zoning supports a broad range of warehouse, manufacturing, logistics, and flex industrial uses, providing long-term operational flexibility and strong tenant appeal in a supply-constrained Syracuse market.

ABOUT SYRACUSE, NY

Syracuse, NY, offers a strong industrial real estate market driven by its strategic location in Central New York. The city benefits from excellent transportation infrastructure, including access to Interstate 81 and Interstate 690, which provide connectivity to key markets across the Northeast and Midwest. Syracuse is also served by Syracuse Hancock International Airport and a well-established rail network, making it a logistics hub for regional distribution.

The area has a diverse industrial base, including manufacturing, distribution, and technology sectors, with affordable land and competitive operating costs. This makes Syracuse an attractive option for companies seeking cost-effective space and a skilled labor force. With ongoing urban revitalization and a focus on infrastructure improvement, the industrial real estate market in Syracuse is poised for continued growth and investment opportunities.
