

Property Summary

PROPERTY DESCRIPTION

Located on a prominent corner within Savannah’s Streetcar District, 422 W 43rd Street presents a rare opportunity to acquire a TC-1 (Traditional Commercial) zoned property with exceptional flexibility and potential seller financing, creating an attractive pathway for owner-users and investors alike.

This ±2,300 SF, two-story building is currently configured as a mixed office/residential layout, but is fully zoned for commercial use, allowing a future owner to reposition the property to meet market demand. TC-1 zoning supports a broad range of uses including restaurant, café, professional office, retail, service-oriented businesses, and non-owner occupied short-term vacation rental.

A defining feature of this location is its proximity to The Jardin, a new mixed-use residential and commercial development under construction by The Rhino Collective. Situated at the gateway to the Streetcar Historic District, The Jardin will bring multiple residential buildings with more than 50 apartments and ground-floor commercial space with outdoor seating, enhancing the vibrancy and pedestrian traffic immediately adjacent to this property. This nearby investment reflects growing interest and reinvestment in the area’s urban core and strengthens long-term demand for retail, office, and hospitality uses.
