An aerial photograph of a city street intersection. A large, irregularly shaped lot is outlined in yellow. The lot is mostly bare earth with some dry grass and a few small trees. To the left of the lot is a street with a bus stop and a bus. To the right of the lot are several buildings, including a large brick building and a red building with a blue roof. The text "Impound lot or fenced storage site, whatever your use, this property could be the right spot!" is overlaid on the left side of the image.
