DETAILS

This three-story, 28,000± SF office building presents a compelling opportunity for investors or owner-users seeking a versatile, multi-tenant asset in a growing region of North Carolina. The property benefits from favorable zoning and a substantial 28-acre site, creating flexibility for a wide range of future uses. Its size, layout and existing infrastructure make it well-suited for traditional office operations, shared workplaces or organizations looking to establish a regional presence in a strategic and accessible location.

Beyond its current configuration, the property's expansive acreage opens the door for meaningful long-term potential. Landowners, developers and neighboring commercial operators may find value in acquiring additional industrial-zoned land while also securing a headquarters-ready building. Likewise, the location and scale make this an appealing option for educational institutions seeking room to grow or for medical providers looking to expand their footprint in a market with increasing demand for outpatient and specialty services.

 201 E. Livermore Dr., Pembroke, NC

LOCAL INFORMATION

Pembroke, North Carolina is known for its strong sense of identity and community. As the cultural and social center of the Lumbee Tribe, the largest state-recognized American Indian tribe east of the Mississippi, Pembroke benefits from a deep heritage that shapes local institutions, businesses and civic life. That foundation gives the town a level of stability and cohesion that stands out in the region and creates a supportive environment for thoughtful investment and development.

The presence of the University of North Carolina Pembroke adds another layer of vitality. The university brings a steady flow of students, faculty and visitors, generating consistent demand for services, housing and commercial activity throughout the year. With accessible land values, a growing academic presence and a community rooted in tradition, Pembroke offers a blend of cultural depth and economic potential that makes it an appealing market for long-term real estate investment.
