The concept

We considered the history of Allentown as the largest silk producer in the country.

We then focused on a roll of silk as inspiration for the design.

We evolved that silk roll into an office tower concept with a corresponding silhouette.

The end result is a glimmering glass tower that redefines the center of Allentown.

Open air spaces

Unleash the power of a fresh perspective to your business environment by bringing the outside in.

Top 100 “Best Places to Live” in 2019

Named by US News and World Report, beating out Philadelphia, Chicago, and Los Angeles.

Welcome to the Lehigh Valley, a thriving region nestled among the majestic Appalachian hills in eastern Pennsylvania. With three historic cities - Allentown, Bethlehem, and Easton - this area is a true treasure waiting to be discovered. Allentown’s downtown has undergone a renaissance in recent years, attracting new businesses and development to the area.

The city

Founded by William Allen — a former Philadelphia mayor — in 1762, Allentown has swelled from a rural Pennsylvania Dutch farming community to the largest city in the Lehigh Valley. The city grew tremendously since the launch of a 2009 state program encouraging development and revitalization in the downtown.

The only program of its kind in the state, Allentown’s Neighborhood Improvement Zone (NIZ) has spurred more than a billion dollars in new and planned development and generated a record $86 million in state and local tax revenue in 2019 alone.
