MARKET OVERVIEW

R

SW FLORIDA Definitions of Southwest Florida vary, though its boundaries are generally considered to put it south of the Tampa Bay area, west of Lake Okeechobee, and mostly north of the Everglades and to include Manatee, Sarasota, Charlotte, Lee, and Collier counties. For some purposes, the inland counties of DeSoto, Glades, and Hendry, and the thinly populated mainland section Monroe County, south of Collier, are also included. The region includes four metropolitan areas: the North Port-Bradenton-Sarasota MSA (sometimes alternately considered a part of the Tampa Bay Area to the north), the Cape Coral-Fort Myers MSA, the Naples-Marco Island MSA, and the Punta Gorda MSA. Southwest Florida is one of the fastest-growing areas in the nation, according to the U.S. Census Bureau's most recent population estimates.

Lee and Collier counties ranked in the top 10 of the nation's fastestgrowing metro areas based on population increases from July 2013 to July 2014. Census figures released today show Lee County added 18,177 people during that span, an increase of 2.7 percent, the sixthlargest increase in the country. Collier ranked No. 10 with an increase of 2.5 percent, adding an estimated 8,671 residents. The Census Bureau estimated Lee's population at 679,513 as of last July and 348,777 for Collier. If both counties grow at their same rates through July 2015 that would put Lee's population at an estimated 697,860 and Collier's at 357,496.

Southwest Florida was largely ignored by commercial developers until the late 1800s, and as such, lacks much of the heavier development present in other parts of Florida, such as that found in the central or southern regions of the state. In recent years however, there has been a major real estate boom focusing on downtown Fort Myers (highrise residential condominiums); southern Lee County (commercial development and high-technology); eastern Collier County (residential development); and eastern parts of Bradenton.

Southwest Florida International Airport, located in South Fort Myers, served over 7.9 million passengers in 2014 and offers non-stop flights to 3 cities in Europe and 2 in Canada, in addition to 36 domestic airports. The area's secondary airport, Sarasota-Bradenton International Airport, served 2.9 million passengers in 2014. Southwest Florida is served by several major highways, including the Tamiami Trail (U.S. 41) and the Interstate 75 freeway, both of which connect the area to Tampa to the north, and Greater Miami–Ft. Lauderdale to the east. Tourism is a major economic driver in the area. In addition, many seasonal residents live in the area during the winter months, as temperatures in south Florida stay very moderate during that time of year.
