426 rise will meet or exceed 2.1 feet above 2000 levels, placing over 40,000 New Jersey properties at risk of permanent coastal flooding.
427 In addition, precipitation intensity in New Jersey is increasing at levels significantly above historic trends, placing inland properties at
428 greater risk of flash flooding. These and other coastal and inland flood risks are expected to increase within the life of a typical mortgage
429 originated in or after 2020.

442 129. Is the Property subject to any requirement under federal law to obtain and maintain flood
443 insurance on the Property?

Properties in the special flood hazard area, also known as high risk flood zones, on FEMA’s flood insurance rate maps with mortgages from federally regulated or insured lenders are required to obtain and maintain flood insurance. Even when not required, FEMA encourages property owners in high risk, moderate risk, and low risk flood zones to purchase flood insurance that covers the structure and the personal property within the structure. Also note that properties in coastal and riverine areas may be subject to increased risk of flooding over time due to projected sea level rise and increased extreme storms caused by climate change which may not be reflected in current flood insurance rate maps.

450 from FEMA, the U.S. Small Business Administration, or any other federal disaster flood assistance
451 for flood damage to the Property?

For properties that have received federal disaster assistance, the requirement to obtain flood insurance passes down to all future owners. Failure to obtain and maintain flood insurance can result in an individual being ineligible for future assistance.

An elevation certificate is a FEMA form, completed by a licensed surveyor or engineer. A buyer may be able to use the elevation certificate from a previous owner for their flood insurance policy.
