

OFFICIAL CITY OF PASADENA ZONING LETTER

To Whom it May Concern,

The City of Pasadena is a non-zoned municipality. However, there are certain land development regulations applicable to properties located within the corporate limits of the City of Pasadena.

Various city ordinances related to planning and land development are available on the City's website at <https://www.pasadenatx.gov/279/Codes-Ordinances>. All other applicable regulations can be found in the Code of Ordinances at https://library.municode.com/tx/pasadena/codes/code_of_ordinances.

This letter does not address any separately filed restrictions that may be applicable to the property. Deed restrictions and any subsequent amendments can be researched at the office of the Harris County Clerk.
