MONTEREY PARK

CITY OVERVIEW

Monterey Park is a dynamic, 7.7-square-mile city nestled in the western San Gabriel Valley of Los Angeles County, approximately seven miles east of downtown Los Angeles. The city is bordered by the 10 freeway to the north, the 710 freeway to the west and the 60 freeway to the south. Neighboring cities include the cities of Alhambra, East Los Angeles, Montebello, and Rosemead, making it a central hub within the region.

The city boasts a robust economy with a diverse mix of retail, commercial, and industrial enterprises. Notable centers such as Atlantic Times Square highlight Monterey Park's ongoing development and economic vitality. The city's median household income stands at approximately $77,605, reflecting a stable and thriving community. Monterey Park is known as a major Asian business hub within the San Gabriel Valley, with many world class East Asian restaurants, shops, and services drawing visitors from across Southern California.

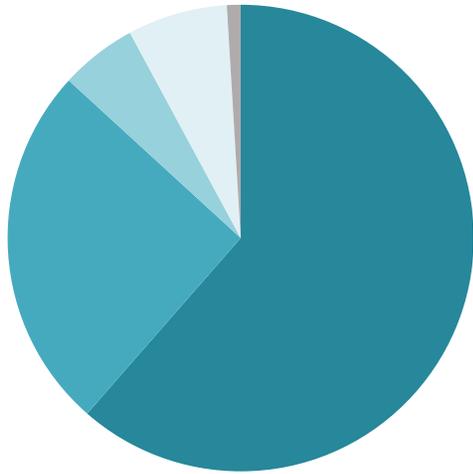

Monterey Park schools are highly rated and primarily served by the Alhambra, Garvey, Los Angeles, and Montebello Unified School Districts, featuring a mix of high-performing public, private, and charter options, with a strong emphasis on academic rigor. The city is home to East Los Angeles College with Cal State Los Angeles also located nearby.

Monterey Park enjoys a strong reputation for safety, making it one of the most desirable communities within the San Gabriel Valley. The city's commitment to public safety and community engagement fosters a welcoming and secure environment for families, professionals, and visitors.

This bustling city with all of its unique attributes make it a standout destination and place to live within Los Angeles County.
