NALHeartland

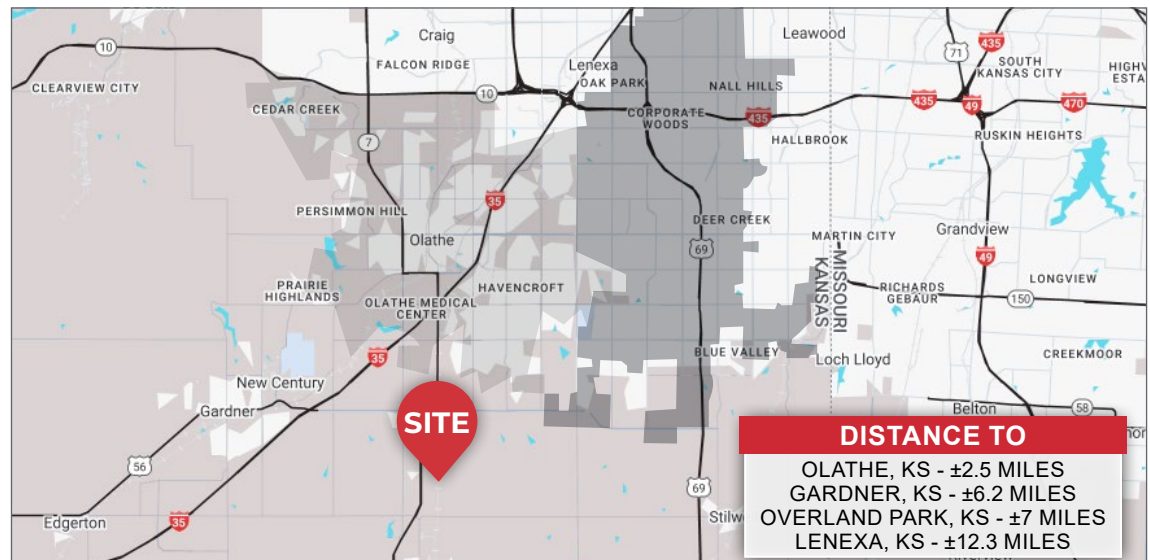

Spring Hill, Kansas, is a growing city located in both Johnson and Miami counties and part of the Kansas City metropolitan area. Initially a farming community, the city has been one of the fastest-growing in the region due to its close proximity to more established and expensive communities like Overland Park and Olathe. Spring Hill is connected to the larger KC metro via US Route 169 and other major highways, making it accessible for commuters. Plus, the Spring Hill School District is well-regarded and also a big attraction for families moving to the area.

Overland Park is the second largest city in Kansas with consistent growth and earning awards as one of the best places to live in the country. This is due to the top-rated public and private schools, strong economy, low crime rate, and overall quality of life. Numerous technology firms, healthcare companies, and businesses, including corporate headquarters for Black & Veatch, Bushnell Corporation, Compass Minerals, Tallgrass Energy Partners, Waddell & Reed, and T-Mobile call Overland Park home. The area is one of the major economic centers in Kansas.

Olathe is the fourth largest city in Kansas, boasts a robust economy, and a family-friendly atmosphere. Olathe's economy is driven by a mix of industries including education, healthcare, manufacturing, and technology. Garmin, the global leader in GPS technology, is headquartered in Olathe, providing numerous jobs and contributing to the local community. The Olathe Public School District is one of the largest in the state and is highly regarded for its academic performance and extracurricular activities.
