THE STRAND BUILDING

Nestled at the intersection of Broadway and East 12th Street, The Strand Building stands as a testament to early 20th-century architecture, boasting a Renaissance Revival façade designed by William H. Birkmire in 1903.

This 11-story, 152,400-square-foot Class B office building seamlessly blends historic charm with contemporary amenities. Notably, it has housed the iconic Strand Bookstore since 1956, adding cultural significance to its prestige.
