FORT SMITH, AR

Fort Smith is the third-largest city in Arkansas, and it is situated along the Arkansas River across from the Oklahoma state border. It is the manufacturing hub of Arkansas and was recently selected by the U.S. Department of Air Force to be the new home of the Foreign Military Sales Pilot Training Center. The new training center is projected to have an annual economic impact of $800 million to $1 billion.

The region has a long history of hard-working individuals across industries such as agriculture, construction, manufacturing, distribution, food processing, electronics, healthcare, and more. In addition to its qualified workforce, Fort Smith's cost of living averages 14% below the national average.

Fort Smith's unique origin as a western frontier military post in 1817 serves as the basis of its growing recreation and tourism industry. Downtown Fort Smith, specifically, has experienced rapid revitalization in recent years with the introduction of many new buildings and projects. Notably, "The Unexpected" is a public art initiative aimed at bringing urban and contemporary art to Arkansas. The initiative culminates in an annual week-long evening in downtown Fort Smith.
