OLD TOWN HALL,

BROMLEY

The Building

Clockwise Bromley is situated in the impressive and iconic Bromley Old Town Hall. Originally built in 1907, the neo-Georgian Grade-II listed building is now home to one of our largest spaces, and the second London location. Clockwise is proud to play a part in the major regeneration of such a historic local landmark.

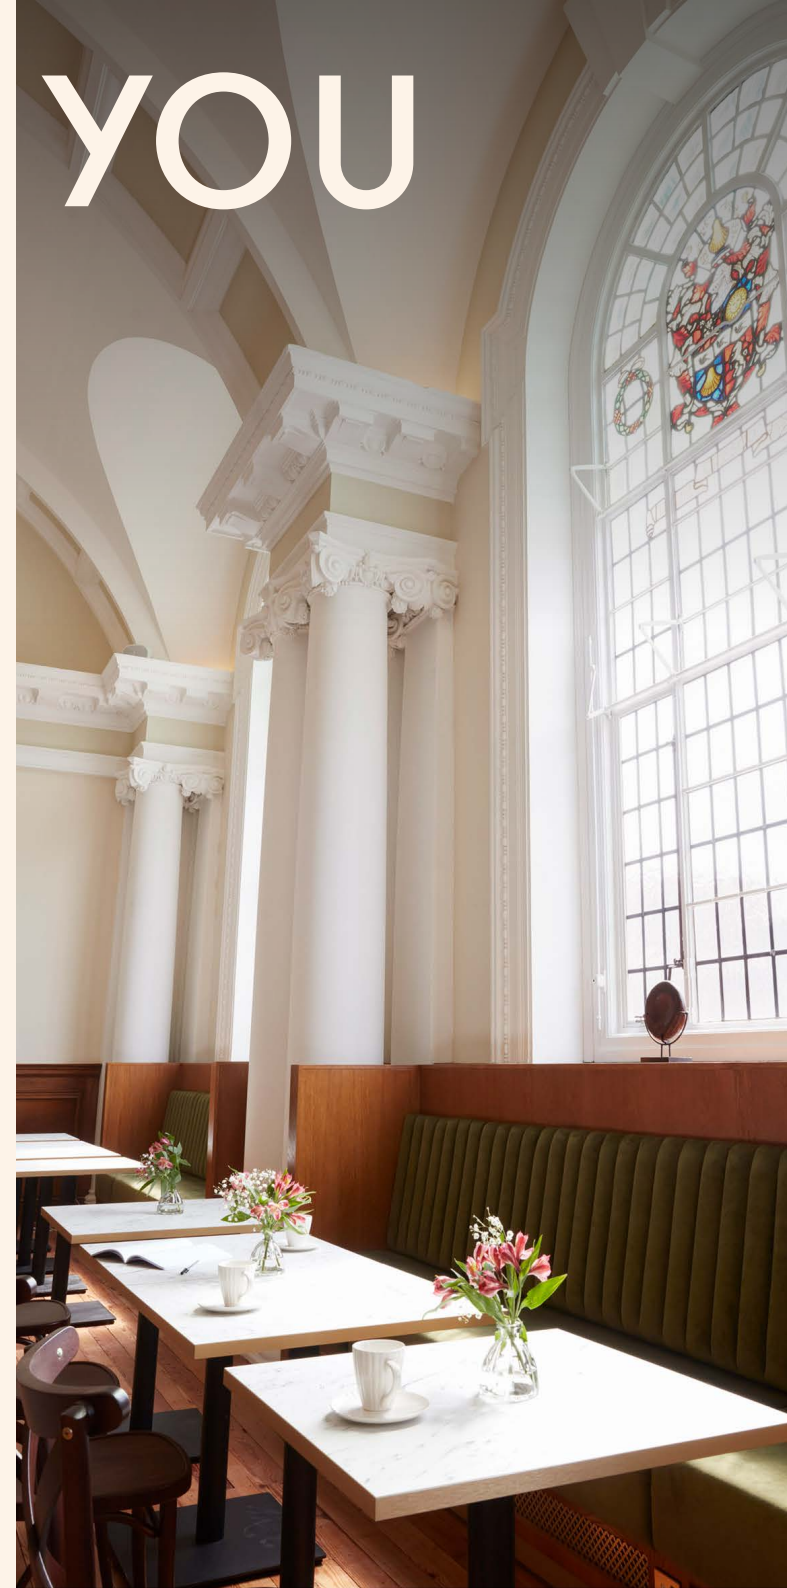

We've sensitively restored some of the outstanding original design features, from the four giant fluted concrete columns clad in green marble, to the stone architrave and fireplaces. The renovation includes preserving the wood panelling in the old Courthouse and three large stained-glass windows in the former old Council Chambers. We've transformed two underground cells from the Magistrates' Court days and repurposed them into an office and meeting room and portraits of all the former Bromley mayors are now on display in the grand entrance.

Clockwise Bromley has dedicated offices, private desks and meeting rooms to suit all ways of flexible working. Bromley Old Town Hall is home to Brama, a 23-bedroom boutique hotel opening this spring and all-day dining restaurant Dorothy and Marshall.

DON'T JUST TAKE OUR WORD FOR IT...

“Having been a member of Clockwise for almost 4 years I could not be happier. The office space itself is spacious, modern and clean. The management team are first class - no request is ever too much hassle and they regularly seek client feedback with a view to continuously improving what is already a fantastic concept. This is genuinely a great place to work.”

Jennifer McLean, Klarent Hospitality

“A fantastic place to work - absolutely no detail is missed in creating a stylish, function workspace, and the team are so friendly and helpful.”

Ben Howell, Stack & Still, Glasgow

“We have been with Clockwise since May 2021 and we have nothing but high praise for the Clockwise team, since first discussions with them right through to our office move and to the present time. Our transition from our own office to a serviced office could not have gone more smoothly, mostly due to the help provided by the Clockwise team.”

Mandy Cooke, Succeed Wealth Management, Belfast

“We love the space and the facilities. And really importantly the team look after us so well - nothing is too much for them, so we can't praise them enough. We love it here and for us, as a tech-startup, it is so important to have a working environment that makes the team happy and brings us all together.”
