PENDLETON | MADISON COUNTY, IN

2022 POPULATION:
131,744

PENDLETON, MADISON COUNTY, IN

Pendleton, Indiana, is a charming town located in Madison County, offering a blend of small-town charm and modern amenities. With a rich history, vibrant community spirit, and strategic location, Pendleton presents an enticing opportunity for residents, businesses, and visitors. Situated just off I-69, Pendleton enjoys easy access to major transportation routes, connecting it to Indianapolis and Anderson. This prime location makes Pendleton an attractive destination for commuters and businesses seeking convenience and connectivity.

PENDLETON I-69 INTERCHANGE MASTER PLAN

Pendleton is ripe for development activity, as it lies in the path of the expanding Indianapolis metropolitan region. As growth and development continues its march northeast along I-69, the I-69 and SR 38 interchange is in a prime position for development. The Pendleton I-69 Interchange Master Plan is the blueprint to capture that future regional growth.

Comprised of four quadrants surrounding the I-69 and SR 38 interchange, the Master Plan encompasses 2,325 acres and aims to develop single- and multi-family residential areas with tree-lined streets, retail, business, and health and wellness districts. An advanced manufacturing and technology district is being planned to bring more high-paying jobs to the area, Pendleton Business Park, Falls Pointe Health and Wellness District, a Keystone Development District for future private real estate investments of a significant nature, as well as several parks, waterways, pathways, and trails.

PENDLETON, MADISON COUNTY, IN

PENDLETON I-69 INTERCHANGE MASTER PLAN

The Southeast Quadrant is the most developed of all four quadrants and includes recommendations for an expansion of the Pendleton Business Park, a residential development district, and the Falls Pointe Health & Wellness district that will include medical facilities, sports complexes, and a nature park with trails.

HISTORIC PENDLETON REVITALIZATION DISTRICT

The Historic Pendleton Revitalization District is a planned redevelopment project intended to benefit downtown merchants and historic commercial property owners by facilitating the establishment of downtown dining, cultural, and entertainment venues that will include a master-planned bicycle and pedestrian trail system. Beginning with a designated event space that will create an automobile-free area for downtown festivals, it will establish a connection to enhanced alleyways and State Street for merchants and will create a potential location for Pendleton Farmer's Market. This space will also be a visual and physical connector to Falls Park from State Street and Pendleton Avenue and allow opportunities for public art and sculptures along the pedestrian and bike trails. The Historic Pendleton Revitalization District will increase downtown retail and tourism activities, strengthening the economic vitality of historic downtown Pendleton and will provide the town with a key economic development tool to attract additional downtown investments, expand the tax base and create more employment opportunities for area residents.

REZONING FOR ADDITIONAL 200-HOME SUBDIVISION OFF SR 38

A new 200-home subdivision, separate from those planned for the Pendleton I-69 Interchange Master Plan, has begun the process for development by having rezoning approved by the Pendleton Town Council in March of 2024. Early concept plans for the 98-acre subdivision, called Baker's Pointe, were made by developer D.R. Horton. Planning Director Hannahrose Urbanski expects increased traffic on SR 38 from I-69 to downtown Pendleton and any modifications done to SR 38 to help with increased traffic in the area will be on INDOT.

With Pendleton's proximity to the Indianapolis MSA, it is still an attractive bedroom community for commuters. Pendleton ranked #17 out of 110 on Niche's Best Places List for Best Suburbs to Live In Indianapolis in 2023 for its connectivity and rich natural beauty. Due to the growth of the Indianapolis metro to the northeast, Pendleton offers ample opportunities for economic growth and development. The town's pro-business policies and strategic incentives attract both startups and established enterprises. The Pendleton I-69 Interchange Master Plan, the Historic Pendleton Revitalization District, and many future housing starts, makes Pendleton an excellent opportunity for investors and entrepreneurs alike.
