DETROIT POLICE 6TH
PRECINCT HEADQUARTERS
