EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Kidder Mathews is pleased to present the opportunity to acquire nine (9) related properties in Los Angeles' Chinatown neighborhood. Site improvements total $\pm 57,000$ SF across multiple property types inclusive of industrial, retail and specialty-use (parking lot). Combined, the parcels total 1.88-acres of which all are zoned [DM2-G1-5][CX2-FA][CPIO], allowing for a wide range of permissible uses including mixed-use residential options aimed at creating versatile urban spaces.

The subject site is situated 1-mile northeast of Downtown Los Angeles and benefits from a central location with proximity to Union Station, Metro Light Rail access. Additionally, location is adjacent to highly-amenitized neighborhoods such as Little Tokyo and the Arts District. The area's walkability, cultural heritage and proximity to employment centers continue to attract both residential and commercial interest. The surrounding area has experienced a notable increase in new residential and retail development activity in the past decade as demand for housing in the submarket remains elevated. Specifically, Chinatown has experienced an increasing number of mixed-use and multifamily developments, either recently delivered or in the pipeline.
