PARKCHESTER

Parkchester is home to thriving communities that represent a diversity of backgrounds. Named after the Parkchester planned community, developed by the Met Life Corporation in the 1940s, the area is home to a diverse mix of housing types and people. Living in Parkchester offers residents a dense urban feel and most residents rent their homes. In Parkchester there are a lot of bars, restaurants, coffee shops, and parks. Parkchester was designed with aesthetics in mind as evidenced by intricate patterns of brickwork. The development contains 500 terra cotta statuettes and 600 plaques such as bullfighters, animal figurines, soldiers, mermaids and Native American chiefs created by sculptor Joseph Kiselewski. Located in the heart of the neighborhood is the Metropolitan Oval park, which features large fountains and green spaces.
