Industrial building suited for contractor, service, and light manufacturing users. The property is located among similar industrial and service operations, supporting early-morning operations, equipment movement, and daily field activities. The corner lot configuration provides improved access and circulation compared to mid-block sites, with visibility that supports operational use.

The building footprint is efficient and straightforward, allowing for functional use without excess overhead or unnecessary build-out. This is a practical option for businesses seeking industrial space in an established industrial area, with surrounding uses that support active operations and day-to-day logistics.
