

Your Relationship with a Real Estate Professional

Real estate professionals have a regulatory requirement to present you with this consumer information before providing services to you.

This information explains the different relationships you can have with a real estate professional to buy, sell or lease property. Before you disclose confidential information to a real estate professional regarding a real estate transaction, you should understand what type of business relationship you have with that individual.

BC Financial Services Authority

is the legislated regulatory agency that works to ensure real estate professionals have the skills and knowledge to provide you with a high standard of service. All real estate professionals must follow rules that help protect consumers, like you. We're here to help you understand your rights as a real estate consumer.

Keep this information page for your reference.

You can work with a real estate professional in one of the following ways:

AS A CLIENT

If you are the client of a real estate professional, they work on your behalf. The real estate professional representing you has special legal duties to you, including:

- Loyalty. They will act only in your best interests.
- Full disclosure. They must tell you everything they know that might influence your decision in a transaction.
- Avoid conflicts of interest. They must avoid any situation that would affect their duty to act in your best interests.
- Confidentiality. They must not reveal your private information without your permission, even after your relationship ends. That includes:
 - your reasons for buying, selling or leasing
 - your minimum/maximum price
 - any preferred terms and conditions you may want to include in a contract

When you become a client, you may be asked to sign a written agreement setting out your and the real estate professional's responsibilities.

AS A NON-CLIENT

A real estate professional who is not representing you as a client does not owe you special legal duties:

- No loyalty. They may be representing a client with competing interests to yours in a transaction. They must be loyal to their client, not you.
- No duty of full disclosure. They do not have a duty to give you all relevant information.
- No duty to avoid conflicts. They are not acting in your interests.
- No confidentiality. They must share any information you tell them with their clients in a transaction.

As a non-client, a real estate professional may give you only limited services.

Whenever a real estate professional works with you in a real estate transaction, whether you are their client or not, they have a responsibility to act honestly and with reasonable care and skill.

ARTICLE 2 – NON-DISCLOSURE OBLIGATIONS

2.1 Permitted Use

The Receiving Group shall not make any use of Confidential Information of the Disclosing Group, except in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, and all such Confidential Information shall be used only for the purpose of the Proposed Transaction.

2.2 Non-Disclosure and Confidentiality

The Receiving Group shall retain in strictest confidence all Confidential Information of the Disclosing Group. The Receiving Group shall not acquire any interest in any such Confidential Information by reason of this Agreement or by reason of the disclosure of such Confidential Information pursuant to this Agreement. The Receiving Group shall not disclose to any third party such Confidential Information or allow such Confidential Information to be disclosed, except in (1) accordance with the terms of this Agreement, and (2) as may be required for the Receiving Group to perform insurance brokerage or other services on behalf of the Disclosing Group. If any member of the Receiving Group is requested pursuant to, or is required by, Applicable Laws to disclose any Confidential Information of the Disclosing Group, then the Receiving Party shall, unless prohibited by Applicable Laws, promptly notify the Disclosing Party in writing, so that appropriate remedies may be taken or compliance be waived with the terms of this Agreement. In such case, the applicable member of the Receiving Group shall disclose only that portion of the Confidential Information that is legally required to be disclosed and shall exercise all reasonable efforts to obtain reliable assurances that confidential treatment shall be accorded the disclosed Confidential Information. Such disclosure shall not alter, limit or abrogate the Receiving Group's continuing obligations of confidentiality with respect to such disclosed Confidential Information. Nothing herein shall require the Receiving Group to violate any Applicable Laws.

2.5 No Representations

The members of the Disclosing Group do not make any express or implied representations or warranties as to the accuracy or completeness of the Confidential Information of the Disclosing Group and shall not have any liability or responsibility relating to the Confidential Information or for errors or omissions in, or any decisions made by the members of the Receiving Group in reliance on, any such Confidential Information. A member of the Receiving Group is not entitled to rely on the accuracy or completeness of such Confidential Information unless such Confidential Information has been incorporated into a subsequent definitive agreement, in which case the terms thereof shall govern.

2.6 Property of Disclosing Group

Notwithstanding the foregoing, (i) nothing herein shall require the alteration, modification, deletion or destruction of electronic back-up tapes made in the ordinary course of business, and (ii) the Receiving Group shall be permitted to retain one copy of the Confidential Information for the purpose of complying with any internal document retention policies and establishing compliance with any applicable laws or regulations, and for defending or maintaining any litigation relating to this Agreement, in each case provided that Confidential Information contained therein shall remain subject to the confidentiality and non-use obligations set forth herein in accordance with the terms hereof.

2.8 Indemnity

The Receiving Party shall defend, indemnify and save harmless each of the members of the Disclosing Group and their directors, officers, employees and agents (the “Indemnified Persons”) from and against all actions, proceedings, demands, claims, liabilities, losses, damages, judgments, costs and expenses including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, legal fees and disbursements on a solicitor and his own client basis (together with all applicable taxes) that the Indemnified Persons or any of them or their personal representatives may be liable to pay or may incur by reason of any breach of this Agreement by the Receiving Party including, without limitation, any disclosure of Confidential Information or use of Confidential Information by any member of the Receiving Group that is contrary to the terms of this Agreement.

- (b) information that was available to the Receiving Group on a non-confidential basis prior to its disclosure to the Receiving Group;
- (c) information that becomes available to the Receiving Group on a non-confidential basis from a third party, provided that such source is not to the knowledge of the Receiving Group bound by a confidentiality agreement with a member of the Disclosing Group; or
- (d) information that is independently developed by the Receiving Group without reference to any Confidential Information of the Disclosing Group.

The restrictions of this Agreement on the disclosure of Confidential Information shall not apply to those portions of the Confidential Information that constitute:

- (i) any information that is required to be disclosed by a court of competent jurisdiction; or
- (ii) any information that is required to be disclosed pursuant to the timely disclosure requirements imposed by law or by stock exchange policies applicable to the Receiving Group and, in such cases, only where the Disclosing Party has been given a reasonable opportunity to review such proposed disclosure and the Receiving Group has maintained confidentiality to the greatest extent permissible under such laws and policies.

The Receiving Party shall notify the Disclosing Party in writing immediately upon the occurrence of any unauthorized use of, release of, or access to, Confidential Information, or any other breach of this Agreement of which it becomes aware.

2.11 Injunctive Relief

The Parties each acknowledge that irreparable harm shall result if they breach their obligations under this Agreement. The Parties each acknowledge that such a breach would not be properly compensable by an award of damages and that, in addition to any other available remedies, the Disclosing Party shall be entitled to injunctive relief to prevent the misuse, threatened misuse, disclosure or threatened disclosure of its Confidential Information, and the Receiving Group shall not contest or interfere with any application or proceeding for such injunctive relief.

2.12 Receiving Party Responsible for Receiving Group

Any disclosure or misuse of Confidential Information by any member of the Receiving Group or by any Representative of any member of the Receiving Group shall be deemed to be disclosure or misuse by the Receiving Party, and the Receiving Party shall be liable for any such disclosure or misuse as if the Receiving Party had so disclosed or misused the Confidential Information.

2.13 Disclosure Non-exclusive

The Parties each acknowledge that all disclosures of Confidential Information are made on a non-exclusive basis and that the members of the Disclosing Group are free to make other disclosures to third parties of the Confidential Information of the Disclosing Group.

2.14 No Implied Obligations

Both Parties acknowledge and agree that unless and until a final, written definitive agreement regarding the Proposed Transaction between the Parties has been executed and delivered, neither Party is under a commitment to enter into any agreement, discussions or negotiations with the other Party or to conclude or further pursue or proceed with such Proposed Transaction or any other type of transaction or business relationship by virtue of this Agreement or any disclosure of Confidential Information hereunder, and neither Party will be under any legal obligation of any kind whatsoever with respect to such Proposed Transaction, except for the matters specifically agreed to herein. Neither this Agreement nor any disclosure of Confidential Information hereunder creates any agency, joint venture or partnership relation between the Parties or, except as otherwise expressly provided herein, prohibits or restricts either Party from entering into any Proposed Transaction with any third party.

2.15 Acknowledgement

The Receiving Party acknowledges that the Disclosing Party makes no representations or warranties, whether express or implied, as to the accuracy or completeness of the Confidential Information and that, except in the event of intentional misleading or fraud, the Disclosing Party will have no liability whatsoever, direct or indirect, to the Receiving Group as a result of the Receiving Group's use of the Confidential Information.

2.16 Survival

The restrictions and obligations of the Receiving Group contained in this Agreement shall continue and survive for a period of two (2) years after the last date that any member of the Disclosing Group disclosed Confidential Information to the Receiving Group.

ARTICLE 3 – PERSONAL INFORMATION

3.1 Personal Information

If Personal Information is disclosed:

- (a) The Receiving Party shall comply with all applicable Privacy Requirements in relation to such Personal Information and, notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement that would otherwise permit the disclosure of such Personal Information, shall not disclose such Personal Information to any third party without the prior written consent of the Disclosing Party.
- (b) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, the Receiving Party shall not transfer or otherwise disclose such Personal Information to any third party without the prior written consent of the Disclosing Party. If the Disclosing Party so consents, the Receiving Party shall, prior to such transfer or disclosure, enter into a written agreement with such third party that requires such third person to fully comply with all Privacy Requirements.
- (c) The Receiving Party shall implement and use industry best practices at all times for the prevention and detection of intrusion or other abuse or inappropriate use of or access to such Personal Information.
- (d) The Receiving Party shall notify the Disclosing Party in writing immediately upon the occurrence of any unauthorized use of, release of, or access to, such Personal Information.
- (e) The Receiving Party shall maintain all such Personal Information in Canada at all times, and shall not permit any such Personal Information to be accessed from outside Canada, without the prior written consent of the Disclosing Party. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the obligations in this Section 3.1(e) apply to any disaster recovery or other back-up facilities maintained by the Receiving Party.

ARTICLE 4 – GENERAL PROVISIONS

4.1 Governing Law and Attornment

This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the substantive laws of British Columbia and the federal laws of Canada applicable in British Columbia, without regard to the conflict of law rules of British Columbia. The Parties irrevocably submit to and accept generally and unconditionally the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts and appellate courts of British Columbia with respect to any legal action or proceeding which may be brought at any time relating in any way to this Agreement. Each of the Parties irrevocably waives any objection it may now or in the future have to the venue of any such action or proceeding, and any claim it may now or in the future have that any such action or proceeding has been brought in an inconvenient forum.

4.2 Time of the Essence of the Agreement

Unless otherwise specifically provided in this Agreement, time shall be of the essence of this Agreement and of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

4.3 Remedies not Exclusive

Any such notice, direction, request or other communication shall be deemed to have been given or made on the date on which it was delivered or, in the case of fax or email, on the next business day after receipt of transmission. Any Party may change its fax or email numbers or address for service from time to time by written notice in accordance with this section.

4.5 Assignment

This Agreement is not assignable by either Party in whole or in part without the prior written consent of the other Party. Any attempt by either Party to assign any of the rights or to delegate any of the duties or obligations of this Agreement without such prior written consent is void.

4.6 Counterparts

This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts with the same effect as if both Parties had signed the same document. All of these counterparts shall for all purposes constitute one agreement, binding on the Parties, notwithstanding that both Parties are not signatories to the same counterpart. A fax transcribed copy or photocopy of this Agreement executed by a Party in counterpart or otherwise shall constitute a properly executed, delivered and binding agreement or counterpart of the executing Party.

4.7 Waiver

No failure or delay on the part of either Party in exercising any power or right under this Agreement shall operate as a waiver of such power or right. No single or partial exercise of any right or power under this Agreement shall preclude any further or other exercise of such right or power. No waiver of any provision of this Agreement and no consent to any departure by either Party from any provision of this Agreement shall be effective until the same is in writing signed by the waiving

Party. Any such waiver or consent shall be effective only in the specific instance and for the specific purpose for which it was given. No notice to or demand on either Party in any circumstances shall entitle such Party to any other or further notice or demand in similar or other circumstances.

4.8 Further Assurances

Each of the Parties shall promptly execute and deliver to the other at the cost of the other such further documents and assurances and take such further actions as the others may from time to time request in order to more effectively carry out the intent and purpose of this Agreement and to establish and protect the rights, interests and remedies intended to be created in favour of the other.

4.9 Entire Agreement

This Agreement and any documents and agreements to be delivered pursuant to this Agreement supersede all previous invitations, proposals, letters, correspondence, negotiations, promises, agreements, covenants, conditions, representations and warranties, whether written or oral, with respect to the subject matter of this Agreement. There is no representation, warranty, collateral term or condition or collateral agreement affecting this Agreement, other than as expressed in writing in this Agreement. No trade terms or trade usages are to be incorporated by reference implicitly or otherwise into this Agreement, unless expressly referred to in this Agreement. No change or modification of this Agreement shall be valid unless it is in writing and signed by an authorized signatory of each Party.

4.10 Invalidity of Particular Provision

If any provision of this Agreement or any part of any provision (in this section called the “Offending Provision”) is declared or becomes unenforceable, invalid or illegal for any reason whatsoever including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, a decision by any competent courts, legislation, statutes, bylaws or regulations or any other requirements having the force of law, then the remainder of this Agreement shall remain in full force and effect as if this Agreement had been executed without the Offending Provision.

4.11 Enurement

Subject to the restrictions on transfer contained in this Agreement, this Agreement shall enure to the benefit of and be binding on the Parties and their respective heirs, executors, administrators, successors and permitted assigns.
