Marin County Office Building

145 No. Redwood Dr. San Rafael, California 94903

Marin County has a population of approximately 258,000 residents (2019). The county boasts one of the highest incomes per capita in the United States. The county is well known for its educated population, natural treasures such as Muir Woods redwood forest, Marin Headlands, Stinson Beach, Point Reyes National Seashore & Mount Tamalpias and for its local music scene liberal politics. Most of the population reside on the eastern side with a string of communities running along San Francisco Bay from Sausalito to Corte Madera to San Rafael.

Marin County is home to College of Marin with its two campuses (9,000 students), Dominican University of California (1,900 students) and the Community College of Marin (7,000 students). The public high school system offers specialty schools such as Marin School of the Arts, S.T.E.M. and Marin School of Environmental Leadership, along with a number of private schools including The Branson School, Marin Academy, Marin Catholic, and San Domenico. There are two main healthcare providers, Kaiser Permanente and Marin General Hospital - currently undergoing a $535 million redevelopment.

Some of the largest private sector employers here are Kaiser Permanente (healthcare), Marin General Hospital (healthcare), Glassdoor (website hosting), Dominican University (education), Community Action Marin (non-profit), Autodesk (computer programming), Bio Marin Pharmaceutical (medical / research), Managed Health Network (mental health services) and Westamerica Bancorporation (banking). San Rafael is the county seat and the largest city in Marin with over 55,000 residents and serves as the cultural and economic hub for the county. San Rafael is bisected by Highway 101 (Redwood Highway) which runs north to south along the coast of California connecting the Greater Los Angeles Area, the Central Coast, the San Francisco Bay Area and the North Coast. US Route 101 intersects with Interstate 580 in San Rafael, connecting Marin County with the East Bay. Highway 101 (Redwood Highway) is the most-traveled thoroughfare in the North Bay. Highway 101 connects San Francisco directly to Marin County.

Marin County

Marin County population is approximately 258,826. Marin County is included in the San Francisco-Oakland-Hayward, Metropolitan Statistical Area and is across the Golden Gate Bridge from San Francisco.

Marin County boasts the third highest income per capita in the United States. The county is also well known for its natural beauty.

Marin County's natural sites include the Muir Woods redwood forest, the Marin Headlands, Stinson Beach, the Point Reyes National Seashore and Mount Tamalpais. The United States' oldest cross country running event, the Dipsea Race, takes place annually in Marin County, attracting thousands of athletes. Mountain biking was invented on the slopes of Mount Tamalpais.
