Big Changes Coming to Packery Channel Nature Park

Work Underway To Living Shoreline And Boardwalk
by Jace Tunnell

Packery Channel Nature Park on is undergoing a major transformation that promises to elevate it into one of the premier coastal parks in Nueces County. Spanning 38 acres along the Packery Channel waterway, which connects the Gulf to the Upper Laguna Madre, the park sits in a uniquely dynamic coastal environment rich with wildlife and recreation opportunities.

With support from the Texas General Land Office's Coastal Management Program, Nueces County has secured grant funding to implement significant improvements focused on both public access and environmental protection. Central to the project is the construction of an elevated wooden boardwalk stretching around 3,500 feet. This feature will provide visitors with a scenic and accessible route for birding and nature walks, while minimizing impact on sensitive habitats below.

The park is also being designed with anglers in mind. A new fishing pier running parallel to Packery Channel will offer easy access to some of the area's best fishing waters. In addition, improved parking will be making it easier for visitors to access the area. The existing kayak launch will remain in place as is, keeping with the idea for folks to be able to explore the channel and surrounding ecosystems.

Environmental restoration is a key component of the project. Two types of offshore reefs are being installed to help reduce shoreline erosion while simultaneously creating valuable fish habitat. Once established, these reefs are expected to enhance local fisheries and become popular fishing spots. On land, over a thousand native plants are being installed throughout the park to strengthen upland habitats and provide critical resources for migratory birds and other wildlife.

Education and outreach are also central to the park's vision. Approximately 40 interpretive signs will be placed along the boardwalk, offering insights into local bird species, coastal vegetation, and the history of the area.

These features will support school field trips and provide meaningful learning experiences for visitors of all ages.

With additional upgrades including road repaving throughout the park, Packery Channel Nature Park is poised to become a standout destination, potentially rivaling the beloved Charlie's Pasture in Port Aransas. Construction is set to be completed by September 2026.

Jace Tunnell is the Director of Community Engagement for the Harte Research Institute at Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi.

Site Plan Approved For Key Island Property

Zoning change clears the way for infrastructure on 81 acres at intersection of Gulf Beach and Packery Channel by Dale Rankin, The Island Moon

A plan that allows for the construction of infrastructure on a crucially located 81-acre tract of land at the intersection of Packery Channel and the Gulf Beach on Padre Island was approved by the Corpus Christi Planning Commission in its May 13 meeting.

The property's boundaries include the land from Packery Channel on the north to the Gulf Beach on the east, the channel along Granada Drive on the south, and Lake Padre on the west making it a keystone location for development around Lake Padre where infrastructure is already in place. The property, which is currently vacant, also includes the land on the east side of the opening from Packery Channel to Lake Padre.

The Nueces County Appraisal District map lists the address of the 81-acre parcel as 14902 Bartholomew Avenue, and Gulfshores Joint Ventures as the property owner at an appraised value for taxes of $1,502,758 on a total of 3,572,921 square feet. Gulfshores Joint Ventures shows a mailing address in Los Angeles, Ca. Currently property taxes on the property before exemptions are listed at $33,527 per year.

Prior to the approved change by the Planning Commission the 81 acres was zoned CR-2/IO" Resort Commercial District with the Island Overlay which was changed to the "CR-2/IO/PUD" Resort Commercial District with the Island Overlay and Planned Unit Development Overlay.

The "CR2" Resort Commercial District permits the following uses: commercial parking; indoor and outdoor recreation; office uses; overnight accommodations; restaurants; retail sales; auto rental; wateroriented uses; multifamily dwellings; community service uses; educational facilities; government facilities; medical facilities; and places of worship, according to city documents. According to the city documents submitted with the application for the zoning change the approval of the Planned Unit Development (PUD) allows for construction of multi-family housing, single family dwellings on lots a varying size, and mixed-use areas. City staff told Planning Commission members the zoning change clears the way for site work to begin on streets and drainage. The zoning application states the development planned there includes commercial and hospitality uses, and residential including detached houses, townhouses, and cottages. This range of housing options is intended to provide diverse sizes and price points for future residents. Cottage housing, which is already permitted in the base zoning district, will also be incorporated.

It reads in part: The intent...is to facilitate development of a mixed-use project that incorporates commercial uses and various residential options. Multiple housing types including detached single-family houses, townhouses, and cottages to provide a range of size and pricing options to potential homeowners. ... To create scenic pedestrian corridors, walking and bike paths, amenities and public open spaces.

By incorporating short term rentals without limitation and locating commercial uses along the tract's periphery, the development functions as a premier destination that serves both year-round residents and the island's essential tourism sector. The development also connects to the banks of Packery Navigation Channel and to the beach to the east.

The diagram submitted for the zoning changes also shows a walkover from the property across the 150-foot city-controlled easement between the property and Packery Channel. Minimum lot size is listed as 4500 square feet for detached single-family houses with a maximum height of 35 feet. Entry to the property will be through two streets entering from Bartholomew Avenue and Leeward Drive. No timeline for the beginning of construction was listed.
