Fraserview

Victoria-Fraserview remains one of Vancouver's most compelling residential communities, offering a strategic location, cultural diversity, and authentic neighbourhood character that distinguishes it from Vancouver's more affluent districts.

Conveniently located in southeast Vancouver, the neighbourhood is just above Marine Drive and west of Knight Street, creating a well-defined community with clear boundaries and a distinct identity. This positioning offers residents the rare combination of suburban quietness and urban accessibility that defines successful residential investment opportunities.

With over 30,000 residents calling this unique area home, Victoria-Fraserview represents one of Vancouver's most multicultural neighbourhoods, where more than half the population is of Chinese heritage, creating a thriving multicultural community where the majority of residents speak English as a second language.
